Rosalie Culp

Rosalie Culp Chosen To Represent State

Rosalie Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Culp, 433 Schoonmaker Ave., Monessen, won the title "Miss Pennsylvania" in a nofficial Miss Universe contest last night in Baden.

She will leave by plane on July 10 to represent the state in the world wide competition in California.

Miss Culp, who has been a finalist in the Miss Mon Valley contest for the past two years, was invited on Monday to enter the contest by officials at the Earl Wheeler modeling school who were asked to recommend eight contestants.

The contest was based on beauty of face and figure and was judged by seven people from the entertainment world. On Monday evening Miss Culp was one of 30 contestants selected from the more than 40 entries to return for the finals last night.

Gets Many Gifts

She was crowned by Samuel L. Piccinini, owner of a large shopping center at Baden, who sponsored the state competition. It was staged outdoors in gardens surrounding the center.

She was presented a large bouquet of roses, a trophy, luggage and many other gifts. Piccinini will supply her with a complete wardrobe for her California trip for which all expenses will be paid.

This morning as she prepared to leave for Baden to make further arrangements for her trip, Miss Culp was still "in a dream" as she recalled the pictures she had taken recordings made and the many people she met in the lounge of the center after her selection.

Miss Culp is a graduate of Monessen High School, Grace Martin School in Pittsburgh and had special training at Earl Wheeler modeling school in Pittsburgh.

She is 5 foot 7 inches tall and weighs 125 pounds. A stunning brunette, she displayed her beauty last night in a white gown and a white bathing suit. She has had considerable modeling experience and has posed for billboard advertising.

Details of the Miss Universe competition will be learned today when she returns to Baden. However, she will leave for California on July 10 and return home on the 21st. She will be provided with an official chaperone for her stay and will take part in many special events arranged for the contestants.

Named Squire in North Braddock

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader has asked the state Senate to confirm his appointment of Thomas Curran, 52R Ann St., North Braddock, as justice of the peace for that Allegheny County borough.

Curran would serve until January, 1958, succeeding Charles M. Richards, who resigned.

Cartoonist Dies

PASADENA, Calif. James R. Williams, 69, whose panel cartoon, "Out Our Way," appeared in 750 daily newspapers, died Monday night of a heart ailment.

American-Croatian Lad. Aux. meet 8 p. m. tonight at Rhome's to pay respects to Mrs. Mary Pastorkovich.

Gorley's Lake Property Sold To Organization

Gorley's Lake Hotel, a nationally known resort on U. S. Route 40 near Uniontown, has been purchased by the Society of Brothers, an organization devoted to communal living.

The purchase also includes the lake and beach surrounding the hotel, a mountain landmark for more than 30 years.

The purchase price was listed as close to $160,000.

The transaction, which affects the 80-room hotel, dance hall and other facilities and 110 acres of lake and shore property, will become effective July 15.

The lake will be drained and filled to provide gardening area.

It is understood that the group from the Society of Brothers taking over the property will convert part of the hotel into a workshop for production of "Community Playthings" — educational toys and play equipment which the organization produces mainly for institutional use.

An estimated 125 to 150 members of the Society of Brothers — men, women and children — will move to Gorley's Lake from Forest River, North Dakota, and take up residence in the hotel.

The Society was formed in Germany over 30 years ago and now consists of some 1,200 people, of whom about 700 live in Paraguay and Uraguay, after fleeing to South America at the onset of World War II.

U. S. Loses In Girard Court Test

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today was expected to bypass the U.S. Court of Appeals and take its appeal in the Girard case directly to the Supreme Court.

A decision already has been made to challenge in a higher court Tuesday's ruling by District Court Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy. He held that the government cannot proceed with its plan to turn GI William S. Girard over to the Japanese for a manslaughter but must try Girard before an American military court-martial.

Justice Department officials planned a top-level conference today to decide whether to ask the Supreme Court to assert jurisdiction over the government's appeal. Such a request would be made on grounds that a final decision in the case is important to one phase of U.S. foreign policy.

Background of Case

The government, acting under an agreement with Japan, had decided in the interest of good relations with that country to release Girard, a 21-year-old soldier from Ottawa, Ill., to a Japanese court. He was to stand trial there for killing Naka Sakai, a Japanese woman who was scavenging for scrap metal on a military firing range where Girard was on official guard duty.

But McGarraghy ruled that the government's decision, approved by President Eisenhower, "is illegal and in violation of the Consitution and laws of the United States."

He said that since Girard was "acting as a member of the American armed forces in the performance of his official duties as guard" when the shooting occurred, he "is accountable only to the United States federal jurisdiction."

Government officials said that if the Supreme Court upholds this ruling, the United States may be forced to close many vital defense bases overseas.

Jap Premier Arrives

To add further to the government's discomfort, the McGarraghy decision came on the eve of today's arrival here for a state visit of Japanese Premier Nobusuke Kishi. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said he did not know whether the Girard case would figure in conversations between Eisenhower and Kishi.

In Tokyo, the Japanese procurator general said Japan has not changed its plans to try Girard. He said the McGarraghy decision "is based on American domestic law and as far as Japan is concerned we will go on the pronouncement of the American government that Girard will be handed over to Japanese courts."

Three Pricedale Youths Missing

Three Pricedale youths have been reported missing from their homes since yesteday, according to police reports.

They are Donald Brown, 17; George Baldwin, 19 and Robert West, 16.

According to a teletype report at the Monessen police station, the youths left home in a car.

Topper Expected to Get Nod from GOP

Willis E. Topper, Greensburg attorney and former Westmoreland County Republican chairman, is expected to be the GOP nominee for a common pleas court vacancy created by the death of Judge George H. McWherter.

The choice will be made by the Republican County Committee at a special meeting in Greesburg Saturday at 2 p. m.

Following a meeting of the Republican executive committee, county candidates and officeholders yesterday, it appeared that Topper may receive the designation without a contest.

According to Chairman Edwin A. Swink, the executive committee voted unanimously to recommend that the County Committee nominate only a registered Republican for the McWherter vacancy.

This would rule out the suggestion that the Republicans put a defeated Democrat, Joseph M. Loughran, on their November ticket.

Loughran put up a hard primary fight against the Democratic courthouse organization but lost on both tickets. His supporters have been urging the Republicans to give him their third judicial nomination.

Each party at the primary nominated two judicial candidates for vacancies which are occurring in the regular order.

The Democratic County Committee will meet sometime after Saturday to pick that party's nominee for the McWherter seat on the bench.

Topper seems likely to receive the Republican designation by default. Daniel J. Snyder Jr., treasurer of the County Committee and the first choice of many party leaders, told the executive committee definitely yesterday that he will not be a candidate.

And aside from Topper, who is actively seeking support, no

Vernaccini Miss Waldmann Miss Vernaccini

'AND NOW WE LEAVE MONESSEN' — This traveling trio this week will begin embarking on separate trips that will take Everett Vernaccini to Detroit, Mich., Swinda Waldmann to Klosterneuburg, Austria, and Georgette Vernaccini to Athens, Greece.

These Are Busy Days for Everett Vernaccini Family

By LARRY DOYLE

The household of Mr. and Mrs. Everett D. Vernaccini at 22 Montraver Dr., Monessen, is busier than a world-wide travel bureau these days.

In fact, it looks like a travel bureau with maps, time-tables for buses, trains and boats, and everything else that goes with planning trips for traveling both in the United States and foreign lands.

Mrs. Vernaccini, the only one of four in her household who is not making any trip — is in charge of planning.

She is helping to plan a trip for her husband, Everett who just recently returned to Monessen after 14 months in Korea and who now is readying to spend the next three months as an assistant executive officer aboard a luxury liner sailing daily between Cleveland, Ohio, and Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Vernaccini is also helping to plan the itinerary for her daughter, Georgette who will leave tomorrow on the first jaunt of a three-month trip which will eventually take her to Athens, Greece.

Swinda to Leave

The third person preparing to leave the Vernaccini home is Swinda Waldmann, a teen-age Austrian girl who attended Monessen High School last year as a foreign exchange student and made her home with the Vernaccini family while here. She will begin the return trip to her native land Thursday, June 27.

Prior to leaving for his new position this week aboard the liner S.S. Aquarama, Vernaccini told of his 14 months in Seoul, Korea, where he worked for the State Department as a manager of the Overseas Billet Club and several other U. S. owned hotels.

He said the Korean people are "very poor . . . and without the economic aid of the United States, I don't think they could survive.

"The Koreans are very energetic, willing to work and hard workers, but there just aren't any jobs for them. The U. S. is building new industries in order to give them employment and to better their way of living.

"The housing is extremely poor . . . and the United States has moved in and is building many housing projects. The Americans are doing everything to aid these people, but it's going to be a long, hard and somewhat costly road before they can accomplish their aims."

Vernaccini has not yet decided if he will return to Korea after he finishes his three-month stint with the Michigan-Ohio Navigation Lines. He thinks 14 months is a long time to be away from your family.

"I couldn't take my family to

Bakery Workers President to Appear Today

WASHINGTON (UP)—Senate investigators summoned President James G. Cross of the Bakery Workers Union today to answer charges that he used goon squad tactics, connived with an employer and misused union funds.

The dark - haired, well-dressed union president promised the Senate Labor Rackets Committee he would not invoke the Fifth amendment on any "pertinent" question in his testimony.

Cross was pictured in three days of previous testimony as a "dictator" who borrowed large sums from an employer while his union tried to keep workers on substandard wages; who beat up opponents with the aid of a goon squad and pistol - packing Vice president George L Stuart; and who used union funds for his personal pleasure.

Committee Counsel Robert F. Kennedy told reporters he would produce evidence today that Cross had borrowed $106,000 from Martin Philipsborn Sr. and his brother, Herbert, since 1948—including $40,000 last November after the union withdrew strike permission from 125 of its members who worked for Zion Industries, Inc., a bakery and candy factory operated by Martin Philipsborn, Jr.

Studies Plans to Halt Butler Floods

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader today studied legislation to appropriate $300,000 to the state Waters Department for emergency stream clearance and channel rectification in two Butler County streams to minimize flood damage.

The bill, passed Tuesday by the House, 114-66, specified the funds were to come out of state oil and gas lease royalties for improvements on Connoquenessing Creek and Sullivan Run. The measure was sponsored by Sen. Albert R. Pechan (R-Armstrong).

House Approves Special Quota Bill in State

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov George M. Leader today considered legislation to create a special "country club" liquor license without quota restrictions.

The measure cleared the House Tuesday, 109-76, without debate. It would permit unrestricted issuance of club licenses to establishments where the licensing privilege "will be clearly incidental to the function and operation of the club."

The bill said a "major flaw" in present quota provisions was that they tended to discriminate against certain racial groups in that they lacked the opportunity to become members of existing country clubs and are restricted in the opportunity to establish clubs of their own within the quota.

The bill was defeated in the House last Friday, 62-109, in its initial appearance. However, the measure was salvaged, apparently on the insistance of Dr. Joseph O. Randall, Middletown, who has pressed for passage of the legislation. Randall operates a predominately Negro country club at Sterretts Gap, Perry County, which has been unable to secure a liquor license.

Stirone Case Goes To the Jury Today

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Federal Judge John L. Miller turns over to a jury today the extortion case against labor official Nick Stirone.

The defendant, head of heavy construction workers in the Pittsburgh district, is accused of violating the Hobbs Anti-Racketeering Act with a $31,000 forced tribute from building supplier William G. Rider.

The prosecution and attorneys for the defense summed up their cases Tuesday. The speeches were marked by a heated exchange between Asst. U.S. Atty. Hubert I Teitelbaum and defense counsel Vincent Casey.

The attorneys had agreed each would remain quiet while the other delivered his summation. But when Teitelbaum had progressed only a few minutes in his closing remarks, Casey jumped up and shouted:

"I must repudiate our agreement."

Teitelbaum retorted "I thought this would happen." The government attorney suggested the judge order a marshal to keep the peace. Casey sat down, only to interrupt again.

"Your honor do I have to put up with this," Teitelbaum pleaded to Judge Miller.

Casey answered "Do something about it. . ." but was stopped in his retort by Judge Miller.

"Apparently your word isn't very good," the judge observed.

"Well, at least its loud," Casey answered.

Casey, in his summation, repeated his earlier assertions that government's case was weak, did not clearly show it was a matter for the federal court and that the money paid to Stirone was payment for a legitimate business transaction.

Says Program Not Designed For Persecution

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower today defended his civil rights program as a very moderate, decent one.

He told his news conference that he was disappointed that some opponents contended it would destroy their own civil rights. He apparently referred to critics who attacked the House-passed measure on grounds it would deprive persons of trial by jury in certain cases.

Eisenhower said his program was designed with the idea of moderation and not with the idea of persecution of anyone.

He ducked a question about whether he would recommend that Republicans try to keep the Senate in session long enough to break any filibuster by Southern Democrats against the legislation.

In other news conference highlights, Eisenhower:

—Said the Justice Department is studying recent far-reaching Supreme Court decisions on the question of constitutional rights of individuals. He declined to comment on whether he believes the court has gone too far at the expense of law enforcement procedures and investigative functions of Congress. However, he indicated the administration might ask for new legislation to offset parts of the decisions.

Disarmament Hopeful

—Described the most recent disarmament proposals by the Russians as hopeful signs which deserve the most earnest and energetic study. He said that he would be willing to make some temporary arrangement to suspend nuclear tests, with safeguards as a preliminary step toward general disarmament on a permanent basis.

—Said that there seemed to be a very improved atmosphere about the disarmament negotiations. He preferred not to discuss them in detail lest he might disturb them. He said it appears negotiators on both sides are sincere at this time and not using the talks as a propaganda sounding board.

—Said flatly that Disarmament Ambassador Harold E. Stassen was not reprimanded recently as had been rumored. However, the President said that reports had reached him that Stassen was moving too fast and that he was brought home for consultation to be sure that nothing would be done to upset the delicate negotiations. Eisenhower said the delicate nature of the talks required that no one be allowed to stray off the path.

—Supported Defense Mobilizer Gordon Gray in his refusal to turn over to senators certain executive department papers in the Idaho Power Co. fast tax write-off case. Unless such a procedure was followed, the President said there soon would be no coordination in the executive department.

—Described his stomach upset last week as a little one and said he regrets such little upsets keep him away from his job.

—Objected to the recommendation in the Cordiner report on military personnel which would provide for an overall pay increase for all members of the armed services. But he strongly favored the recommendation for increas-

Vote Hearing Tomorrow in County Court

A hearing will be held before Judge Richard D. Laird in Westmoreland County Common Pleas Court at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning to decide whether Mayor Hugo J. Parente or John R. Stieska will be declared winner of the Republican nomination for mayor in Monessen.

Stieska requested the hearing Saturday after the county commissioners rejected the petition of Stieska to accumulate write - in votes cast for him under various versions of his name in the May 21 primary.

Last week, P. K. Jones, county solicitor, told the court the county election board's refusal was based on his advice that write-in votes can only be accumulated in districts using paper ballots rather than voting machines. Monessen uses voting machines.

If the court upholds the commissioners' ruling, Parente will be declared the Republican as well as the Democratic nominee for reelection in the general election.

However, if the court allows all the votes under all versions of Stieska's and Parente's names, Stieska would be the GOP victor.

Parente had 70 votes cast for him under his full name and Stieska had 58.

Using all versions, Stieska received 169 votes to 149 for Parente.

At tomorrow's hearing, Parente will be represented by Attys. David Weiss and Bernard Shire, of Monessen. Atty. Wayne P. Donahue, of New Kensington, Republican nominee for district attorney, will represent Stieska.

Cooler Air Brings Relief From the Heat

A wave of cooler air moved into the Monessen district today, bringing welcome relief to the heat wave which has gripped the area for the past seven days.

The cool air, accompanied by occasional showers, moved into the district about 4 o'clock this morning, sending the temperature down to 70 degrees.

A high of 96 degrees was reached in the district between 3 and 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The temperature went down to 89 about 7.30 p. m.

At noon today the reading was 77 degrees, according to the Donora Zinc Works weather station.

Low temperatures tonight were expected to range from 55 to degrees.

Plan Action Against Slayer

WHEELING, W.Va. (UP)—Intermediate Court Judge David McKee and Ohio County Prosecutor Thomas P. O'Brien today were to meet to decide whether a special term of the May grand jury will be held here to consider a murder charge against Thomas Kronk.

The 30-year-old truck driver went berserk Monday night in South Wheeling and killed two persons and wounded another during a shooting spree.

Kronk was scheduled for a preliminary hearing on a charge of murder Friday before Justice of the Peace Carl J. Fisher. It would be postponed if the grand jury is called.

Kronk confessed when questioned by police shortly after his arrest. However, he cut the statement abruptly when a lawyer advised he say no more.

State Lawmakers Hope to Adjourn

Some of Budget Restored

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania's weary lawmakers looked hopefully for final adjournment today after Republican leaders announced restoration of about 23 million dollars of the $94,500,000 they had cut previously from Gov. George M. Leader's budget.

The Senate - House conference committee early today settled on a General Appropriations Bill totaling $1,165,436,000 after two days of heated discussions which resulted in the two Democratic members refusing to sign the committee report.

Actually the committee restored about $14,500,000 of the original budget cuts. About $8,600,000 had been replaced by the Senate Appropriations Committee. The other additions to the general appropriations measure was $31,400,000 for additional state aid to school districts.

The major question still to be answered is what attitude the Democratic Senate minority will take on the non-preferred appropriations for state-aided hospitals and universities. This depends, in turn, on whether the Democrats will accept the 23 million dollars in restorations as the most they could hope to get from the Republican leadership with its "hold-the-line" policy against new taxes.

Senate Minority Leader John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), who with his House counterprt. Rep. Albert S. Readinger (D-Berks), declined to sign the conference report, was silent on the course the Democrats would follow.

Republicans Confident

But the GOP membership appeared confident the opposition party would not risk the political repercussions which might follow if the non-preferred appropriations were killed by the withholding of Democratic votes. Such a course almost certainly would result in Gov. George M. Leader having to call a special session of the Legislature.

Dent said he submitted new estimates by the Revenue Department indicating the yield from taxes on the books as much higher than was predicted when the administration budget was drawn up. The department upped its estimate of revenue for the next two years by about 51 million dollars and said if the budget cuts totaled 48 million dollars there would still be sufficient tax funds to cover all expenditures.

"They (the Republican members of the committee) refused to take the department estimates, or any other recent ones, at face value," Dent said. "Instead they settled on the income estimates of the Pennsylvania Economy League which were made last November. They even refused to trust their own estimates."

The Senate GOP leaders are expected to call up the 92 million dollars in non-preferred appropriations for final action late today. Then it will be up to the Democrats either to surrender to the GOP drive or carry out earlier threats to withhold their votes. The appropriations require a two-thirds majority.

Both Senate and House Tuesday struggled through a second straight day of 14-hour sessions, necessitated by the final adjournment drive. Both chambers recessed around 1:30 a.m. today.

The House Democratic leadership made a final attempt to pry a flock of administration measures from committee through discharge resolutions. But the GOP membership voted them down with machinegun regularity.

The Senate session featured a bitter battle long party lines over legislation affecting the city of Pittsburgh. A two-hour debate preceded action on a bill to increase the real estate tax rate of the city.

Legislation aimed at merging the departments of Public Assistance and Welfare into a proposed [illegible] Welfare Department was passed unanimously and returned to the House for concurrence in minor amendments.

The Senate also killed off a Republican-sponsored substitute for [illegible] Leader's proposed higher education program—a loan fund for college students. RAIL REMOVAL CAUSES DETOURS — The removing of rails in the downtown section of Belle Vernon this morning proved to be a headache for motorists traveling from Monessen to Fayette City and vice versa. Traveling from Monessen, the detour began at the entrance to Belle Vernon (above). From Fayette City, it started at the intersection of 906 and Fairhope Rd. Both detours took motorists through Fairhope.

other Republican attorneys are interested.

There was some possibility that Loughran would be placed in nomination Saturday, regardless of the recommendation of the executive committee that only registered Republicans be considered.

Some GOP leaders are convinced that Loughran would add more strength to the ticket than will Topper. But one person who attended the committee session in the Mountain View Hotel near Greensburg said the prevailing sentiment seemed to be that Loughran had too recently been identified with the Democratic machine to be acceptable as a Republican candidate.

Until he spilt with the organization over the judicial nominations, Loughran was an assistant district attorney for several years under District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco.

Sculco and Judge Edward G. Bauer defeated Loughran in the primary battle to win the two regular Democratic nominations. The Republican winners were Robert H. Rial and Avra N. Pershing Jr. Loughran also ran third on the GOP ticket.

Westinghouse and CBS Merger Is Reported Today

NEW YORK (UP—Variety said today there have been recurring reports that Westinghouse Electric Corp. and the Columbia Broadcasting System are considering the possibility of merging.

The deal, if it came about, would create a giant company rivaling Radio Corporation of America in both the manufacturing and broadcasting fields. RCA owns the National Broadcasting Co.

Variety, the daily newspaper of the entertainment business, said the rumored merger would be effected by an exchange of stock.

Westinghouse is the world's second largest manufacturer of electrical equipment and appliances, turning out everything from giant turbines to tiny light bulbs. Its sales last year totaled $1,525,375,771.

CBS, one of the nation's major radio and television networks, rang up revenues of $354 million in 1956.

The combined company would have total assets of almost $1,500,000,000.

Turnpike Defense Claims State Witness 'Intimidated' by Counsel

HARRISBURG (UP) — The Pennsylvania Turnpike conspiracy trial resumes today amid a charge by defense attorneys the prosecution attempted to "intimidate" a state witness.

Dauphin County Court reconvened at 9:30 a.m. edt, when the defense will resume its cross examination of the witness, Carroll J. Guldin, turnpike district engineer.

Judge Homer L. Kreider reserved decision in the legal dispute.

Attorney Carl B. Shelley, representing one of the nine defendants, accused Deputy Attorney General Vincent G. Panati of threatening a perjury prosecution against Guldin, during a 10-minute recess shortly before noon Tuesday.

In a closed meeting called by Judge Kreider during a recess, Shelley said Guldin told him he was threatened by Panati, but "evaded" answering whether or not the prosecuting attorney had threatened a perjury charge as the result of his testimony.

The official transcript of the conference, originally withheld by court order but released to newsmen Tuesday night, revealed that Panati admitted warning Guldin "not to get involved in perjury."

Co-prosecutor Huette F. Dowling, Dauphin County district attorney, reported that his only words with the witness during the recess were to direct him not to speak to him.

"I said to him, 'When the jury is out of the room, Mr. Guldin, I do not wish to speak to you'," Dowling said. "'You are under cross-examination'."

He added that Shelley came up to him after speaking with Guldin and said "I will teach you not to intimidate witnesses when they are testifying."

On the basis of the alleged intimidation, chief defense counsel Earl V. Compton asked for the right to question Guldin on the witness stand concerning his conversation with Panati.

Cites "Right to Know"

"The jury has a right to know," Compton said, "of any matters that would go to the credibility of the witness, and certainly it would affect credibility.

"It is a well-known rule," he argued, "that where a party of litigation improperly attempts to influence or subvert evidence is admissable against the party and is to be considered along with all other evidence in the case as to the credibility of that party's case."

Kreider directed all attorneys to make no reference to the matter before the jury without first consulting him privately.

The dispute was not referred to during the afternoon questioning of Guldin. The jury, which has been isolated and confined by court order since the beginning of the trial, had left the court room before the dispute arose and apparently heard nothing of Shelley's accusation.

The court has ordered Saturday sessions to begin this week and hinted that evening sessions may be ordered later.

With the jurors locked up at county expense and the additional deputy sheriffs employed to supervise them, the trial is costing an estimated $400-a-day extra, seven days a week.

The Commonwealth has indicated it has some 40 witnesses to bring before the jury in the presentation of its case, each of whom is subject to cross-examination by lawyers for each of the nine defendants.

In addition, although the defense promised to base its case "on the prosecution's own evidence," they indicated they plan to bring 10 character witnesses for each of the defendants.

Aboard the liner he will be in charge of purchasing food and beverages and handling certain members of the crew, made up mostly of mid-west college students.

Georgette is one of 759 U. S. high school girls who has been selected by the American Field Service to visit a foreign country for three months this summer.

Her final destination is Greece, but before she reaches that country she will travel from Pittsburgh to New York City. From there she will travel with a group of students to Montreal, Canada, to board a ship for Rotterdam. There the group will split in all directions. Some 55 students will make the trip via train to Athens, Greece.

While in Athens, Georgette will be guest at the home of Atty. and Mrs. Kleanthis Anagnostou and their daughter, Mytro. The Greek family, according to information received here, has planned an elaborate program for entertaining the local girl. On Aug. 29, Georgette will begin her trip home.

It will be with mixed emotions that Swinda leaves Monessen on her long journey home. Her senior year at Monessen High School has been a happy one. Asked if she had missed her family, she replied:

"Certainly I will be happy to see them again but I have been so busy here that I haven't had time to think much about being homesick."

Devoted to Vernaccinis

Her devotion to the Vernaccini family was evident.

"I just hate to say goodbye. But I am hoping that Georgette will be able to come to my home in Austria for a visit sometime."

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Franz Waldmann, Swinda, when asked for comparison of Austrian and American schools, said:

"In Austria, a senior in high school is equivalent to a freshman in college in your country. We have a full six-day school week, with practically no time for extra curricular activities."

However, she had plenty of time for activities while in Monessen, being a guest at practically every social function at the school.

Swinda is currently planning to study art at the University of Vienna in Austria where her father was a professor of English and German before he retired.

Jokingly, however, she said she might open a hamburger and ice cream soda stand and "make lots of money."

Other things she took a liking to here included rock 'n roll, jitterbugging, football and baseball. She had no particular "steady" boy friend here. Instead, she said, 'I found them all very interesting."

She will leave Monessen on June 27 and will make a four-week tour of the eastern part of the country before sailing from New York on July 25. Her tour, which will be made with other foreign exchange students, will be climaxed by a visit with President Eisenhower at the White House.

"I am looking forward to seeing my family," she said, "but I am a little sad about leaving Monessen.

"I have never met such wonderful, such friendly people."

Mrs. Vernaccini?

She plans to stay at home and carry on correspondence with the traveling trio.

Wants Dam Funds

WASHINGTON (UP—Rep. John P. Saylor (R-Pa.) said today the House should delete funds for the Kinzua, Pa., dam project from its multi - million - dollar public works bill.

Israel Concerned at Egypt's Acquisition of Soviet Subs

By UNITED PRESS

Israel expressed growing concern today at Egypt's acquisition of three Soviet submarines, and informed sources said an attack on Israeli shipping meant war.

The Israeli cabinet met in emergency session Tuesday night and early today to discuss the Soviet move which once again shifted the Middle East balance of power.

Jerusalem dispatches said the atmosphere in Israel resembled that of the days just before the Sinai invasion when a swift Israeli drive captured much of the Soviet equipment turned over to Egypt in the 1955 Czech arms deal.

A series of new incidents along the border of the Gaza Strip heightened tension in that area, and some Israeli sources said Cairo might be planning new actions to force Israel to attack.

A double mine explosion Tuesday killed one member of a U.N. Emergency Force patrol and seriously wounded four others. Earlier, UNEF troops shot and killed two Arabs trying to cross the border into Israel.

Yugoslav troops were the victims, and UNEF officers said it appeared that some mines had been laid deliberately to harm UNEF troops. Two Indian soldiers were killed in a mine explosion earlier this year.

Relations between Egypt and Jordan steadily deteriorated, and there were indications relations might worsen between Jordan and Syria, Egypt's chief partner in the Arab neutralist camp.

Leader Wins Big Victory On Civil Service

HARRISBURG (UP) — For 24 hours the administration of Gov. George M. Leader appeared to have won a major victory on civil service legislation it has been advocating.

But the bubble burst late Tuesday and the bill to put thousands of additional state technical and professional employes under the merit system reverted to the form in which it had been passed by the Republican-controlled House—the "tenure" job security drawn up by the GOP leadership.

The House version merely would grant security to some state employes holding state jobs for two consecutive years or more after Sept. 1, 1957. It would not become effective until 1959.

The Senate Republican leadership Monday permitted their Democratic opponents to amend the bill to put it in the form advocated by the administration. But 24 hours later the GOP submitted the new set of amendments.

"These amendments restore the bill to the mangled form in which it passed the House," Sen. Harry E. Seyler (D-York said.

The Senate also concurred in a House resolution calling for an inquiry into various civil service and merit systems throughout the nation with the possibility of installing them in Pennsylvania.

The Legislature's research arm, the Joint State Government Commission, will make the investigation and report its findings to the next General Assembly.

Leader Gets Bill Regulating Wages

HARRISBURG (UP) — Legislation to fix minimum salaries for third class city firemen with five years service at $4,500 today awaited action by Gov. George M. Leader.

The House approved the Senate bill Tuesday, 123-55. It would be effective after next Jan. 1.

The Assembly also cleared to the governor legislation to require state and local authorities to file biannual reports listing employes, their jobs and salaries.

State Senator Is Candidate For Governor

HARRISBURG (UP—State Sen. G. Robert Watkins, Delaware County Republican, today disclosed his candidacy for governor in the 1958 statewide campaigns.

Watkins, 55, of West Chester RD 5, and the first avowed gubernatorial candidate, said he had the support of his home county GOP organization headed by former state Sen. John J. McClure.

This is my first announcement of my candidacy for governor," Watkins said. While I have not solicited the support of other county leaders, I am hopeful I can gain support of other county organizations."

The veteran legislator, now in his third four-year term, is chairman of the Senate Law and Order Committee. He sparked the proposed pari-mutuel horse race betting referendum which passed the Senate earlier in the session but which died in a House Committee under the threat of veto by Gov. George M. Leader.

Death Sentence To Be Asked In Kittanning

KITTANNING, Pa. (UP) — Prosecuting attorneys were expected today to demand the death sentence for Robert Tally Davis, an escaped convict accused of slaying an expectant mother.

If the penalty were exacted, Davis would be the first person sentenced to death in Armstrong County courts in 53 years.

Special Prosecutor Samuel Strauss, an assistant district attorney from Allegheny County substituting for ill Armstrong County Dist. Atty. Robert E. Ashe, made plain he would ask for a capital verdict during questioning of prospective jurors Tuesday.

He challenged 35 venirmen for cause, most because they indicated scruples against the death penalty. The challenges, coupled with 14 by the defense, exhausted the panel. Deputy sheriffs were sent onto the streets to bring back five more prospective jurors.

Leechburg Slaying

Davis, who escaped from West Virginia State Prison, is charged with the bludgeon slaying of Mrs. Emily Shupe Foster, 25, outside her Leechburg home last Jan. 30. The Pittsburgh man was arrested more than a month later when he attempted to force his way into the automobile of the wife of McKees Rocks, Pa., Burgess David Hershman.

If cleared of the murder count, Davis still faces 11 other charges of molesting women, abduction and burglary.

For the first time in history of the Armstrong County court, news photographers were permitted to take pictures in the courtroom during a trial. Trial Judge J. Frank Graff granted a request by newspapers and press associations for permission to take pictures of the murder trial.

The judge stipulated that no more than two cameramen be used and that cameras be of the type that do not require artificial light. At the end of the session, Judge Graff said that at no time had the picture taking disturbed the proceedings.

State Grocers Elect Officers

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP) — The Pennsylvania Grocers Association Tuesday re-elected Ira Park, Brookville, Pa., as president.

Others elected at the group's 58th annual convention were William J. Gillespie, Philadelphia, first vice-president; George C. Beltzhoover, Carlisle, second vice-president; Joseph Gallaher, Altoona, third vice-president, and Stephen Wullett of Scranton, fourth vice-president.

To Accept Bids

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Highways Department will receive bids July 12 for a road improvement project in Warren County.

American Home Background in Foreign Affairs

United States foreign policy-making begins in each American home, the Monessen Rotary Club was told yesterday.

The speaker at the weekly Rotary luncheon at Johnson's was Norman Monack, former Charleroi resident and a former member of the White House staff dealing with psychological warfare and propaganda.

Monack said effective foreign policy has to be an extension of the attitudes of the citizen in his own home and community into relations with other nations.

He described the organization of the diplomatic and consular services and urged citizen interest in foreign affairs.

Guests at the meeting included Cadet Charles Belan, of the U. S. Military Academy, who is home on leave; Sgt. Philip Columbus, of Monessen; Joseph McCahill, of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla.; George Blankenbuehler, of Monongahela, and Michael Melinchak, of Charleroi.

House Defeats Move to Restore Gasoline Tax

HARRISBURG (UP)—Legislation to guarantee municipalities 30 million dollars annually for street and road improvements was back in the Senate today for approval of technical House amendments.

The House unanimously passed the bill Tuesday after defeating Democratic attempts to restore the additional one cent gasoline tax which was dropped last June 1, and to increase the municipalities allocation to 36 million dollars annually.

The legislation provides that if the municipalities' share of the present five cent gas tax does not total 30 million dollars during the next two years the balance will be made up from the state Motor License Fund.

Rep. Anthony J. Petrosky (D-Westmoreland) made one last attempt to put the gas tax back to six cents, but the proposal was solidly rejected by the Republicans.

Woman Is Held for Slaying of Husband

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Mrs. Mildred Duncan, who said she loaded a shotgun so her husband would take her in his arms, has been ordered held for a grand jury for her mate's slaying.

"It was a foolish way of trying to get him near so I could touch him," she related to an Allegheny County Coroner's jury Tuesday. "I loved him ..I loved him."

The jury rejected a defense plea of accidental shooting and ruled the shotgun death of Gene Clifford Duncan, 32, in his Mt. Pleasant home was homicide.

Mrs. Duncan said the shooting occurred the night of May 25 after her husband, an executive pilot for the Eazor Motor Express Co., had returned from a trip. The wife, a mother of two children, said she found a lipstick-smeared shirt while unpacking his valise.

It was not the first time, Mrs. Duncan said. The couple moved from Baltimore to Pittsburgh last January in an attempt to "find a better life." Her husband's affairs with "other women," she said, prompted the move.

"We had accomplished so much" in Pittsburgh, she said, until the fatal quarrel.

Mrs. Duncan said she felt so sorry about the argument she loaded a shotgun with two shells and worked the loading mechanism to attract his attention. But he ignored it, she said.

"Then he jumped at me," she sobbed, "and with the gun in my hand, why, it went off."

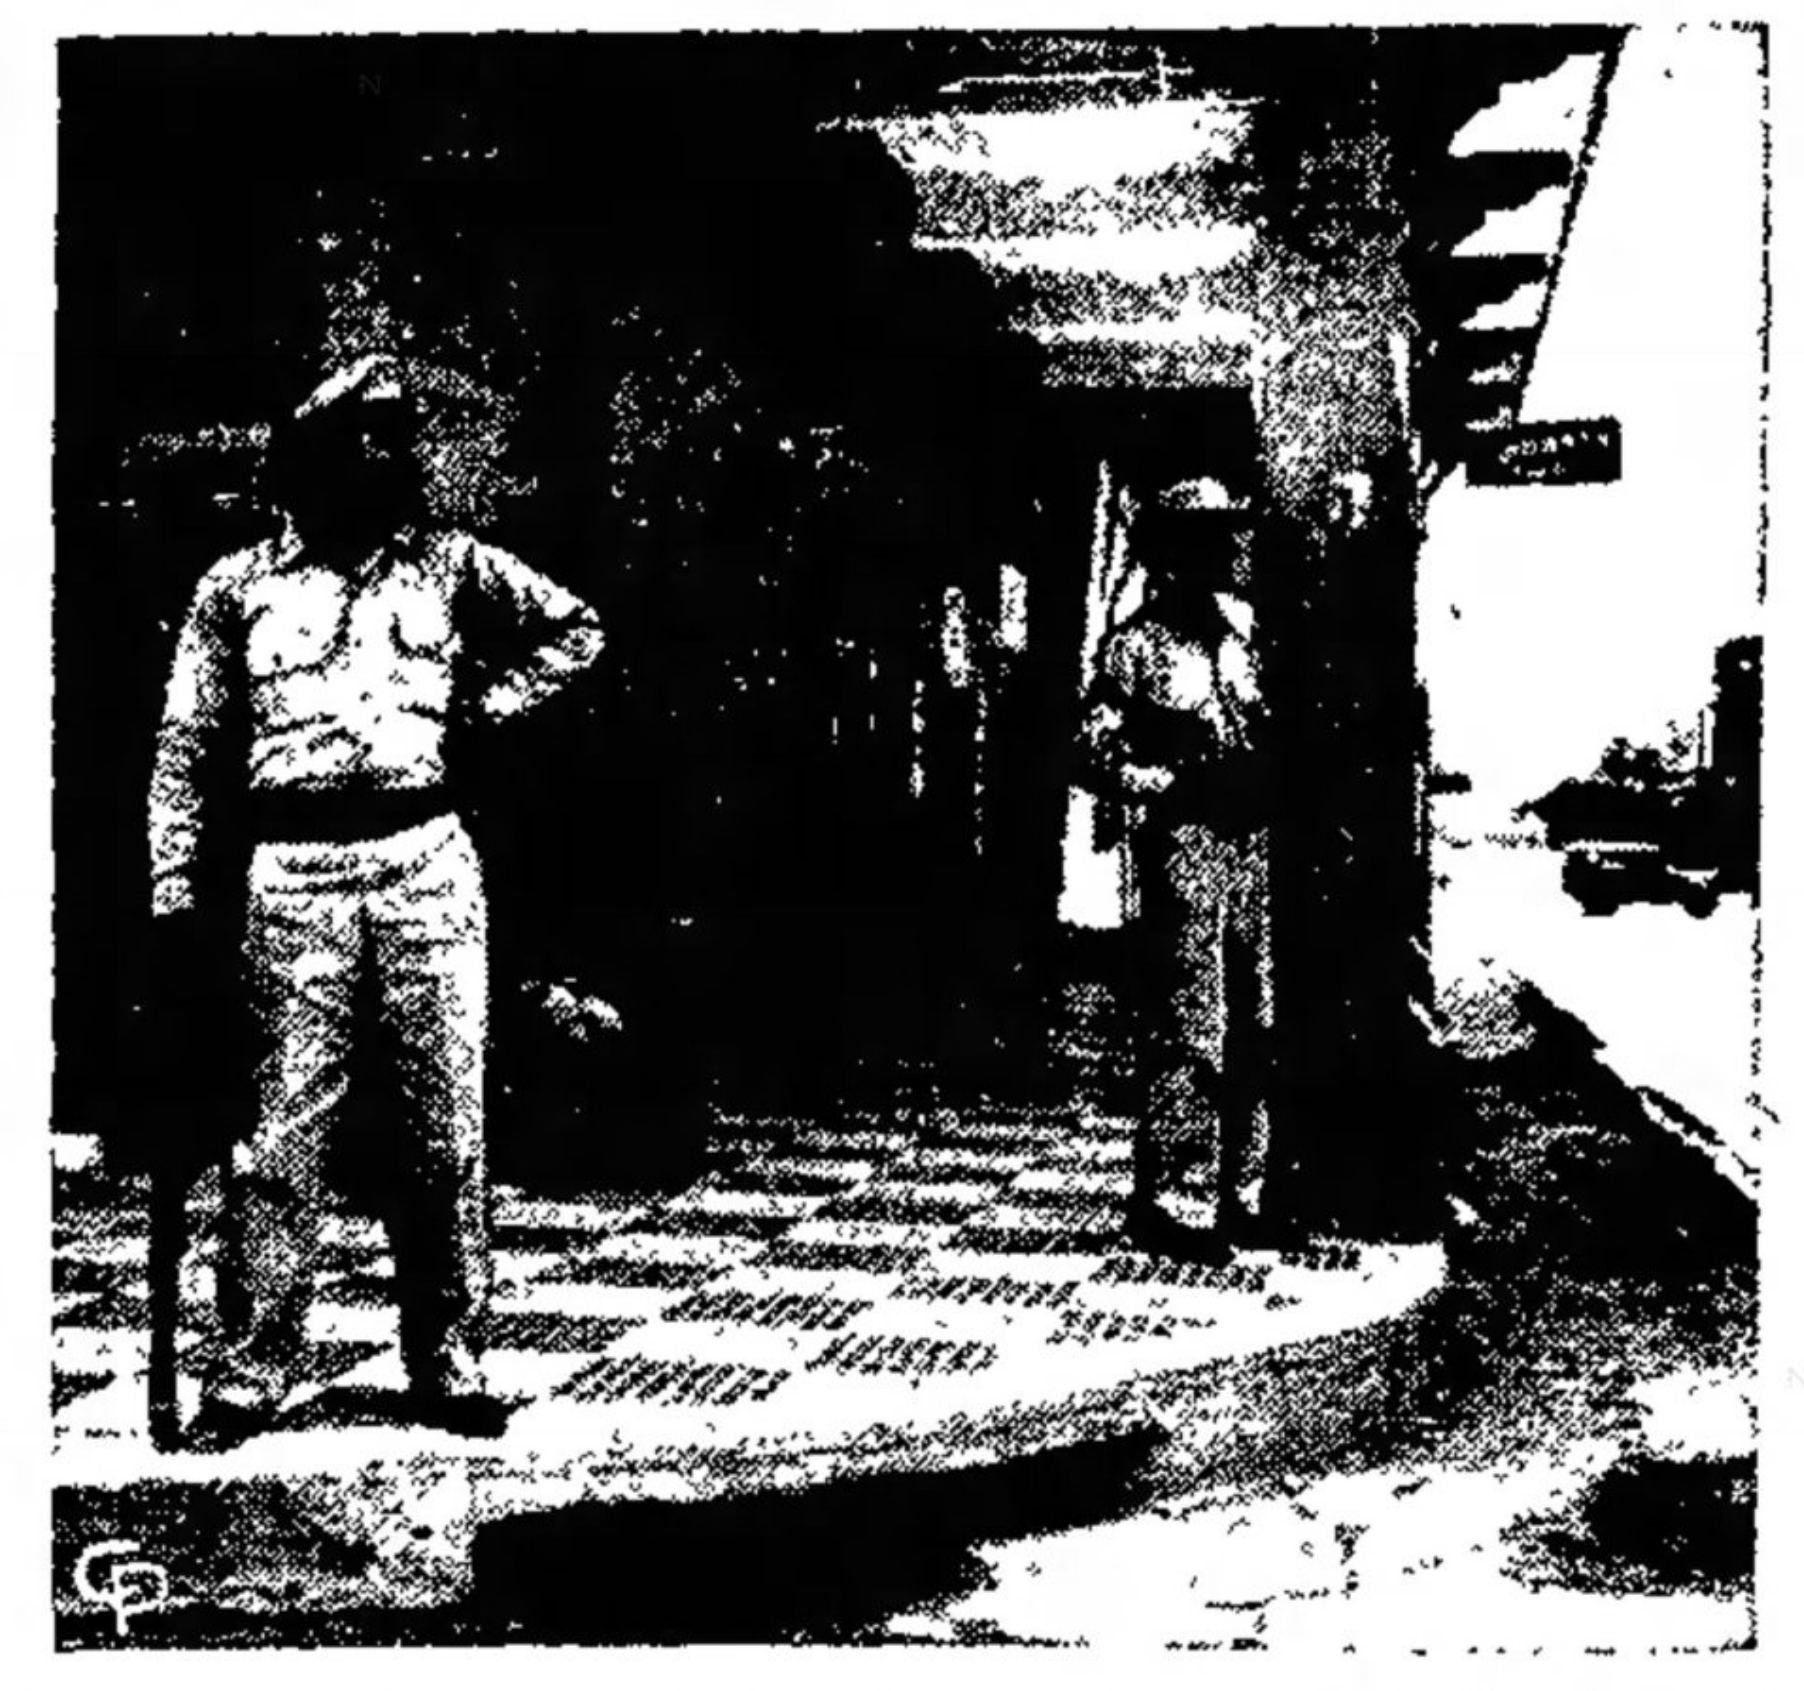
Mrs. Duncan, at the time of the arrest, told officers she fired twice at her husband. Police experts pointed out the shotgun, an Ithaca single barrel weapon, must be pumped before each firing.

Claims Policeman Watched Beating

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Ross Twp. commissioners have been asked to investigate charges that a policeman stood by while a man beat a woman unconscious.

The woman, Mrs. Mary Lignowski, 38, is in St. John's Hospital with an ear inflammation allegedly brought on by the blows. The attacker was not identified.

Mrs. Sophia Rendezza made the charges at a commission meeting. She said an officer called to the scene failed to take any action against the man. She demanded the policeman be charged with neglect of duty.



PATROLLING TROUBLED HAITI — Policeman patrols the main street of Port Au Prince, Haiti, in the wake of riots which took at least 12 lives. The rioting, accompanied by looting, started as a protest over the ousting of provisional president Daniel Fignole. Haiti has had six changes of government since last December.

Tankers Collide Off France; Nine Dead

BREST, France (UP) — An American and a Greek tanker collided in heavy fog today in the Atlantic "graveyard of ships" off the Brittany coast of France. Both ships burned so fiercely that smoke rose 4,000 feet above the sea.

Radio reports said nine persons were known dead — one on the 10,506-ton U.S. tanker Stony Point and eight on the 9,345-ton Greek ship Ioannis.

Vessels from four nations converged on the crash area. Radio reports said they had picked up 64 of the 77 crew members of the two vessels. Shipping reports said the American tanker had a crew of 41 and the Greek ship 36.

An American airman who flew an Air Force amphibian over the area said he had received a report that "all survivors" had been picked up, but said he did not know how many were involved.

Capt. Lowell Dibert, of St. Louis, Mich., said visibility was so bad the rescue planes could barely see the burning ships. He said the smoke was rising to an altitude of 4,000 feet.

The Stony Point, owned by the U.S. Petroleum Carriers, Inc., of New York, and the Greek tanker collided shortly before 6 a.m. (1 a.m. e.d.t.) 14 miles west of Wissant Island, a rocky speck of land jutting into the turbulent Atlantic 15 miles west of Brest.

U.S., British, French, and German ships rushed into the area where the two badly-burning ships continued to stay afloat although their crews jumped overboard immediately after the disaster.

One radio report said rescue operations had been "hampered by intense heat from both burning vessels."

Another radio report—the only means of communication into the disaster area in the early part of the day—said there had been an explosion. But both vessels stayed afloat into the afternoon.

The tiny German freighter Erik Reckmann, who radioed the first news of the collision, stood up close to the treacherous coast to pick up survivors. It radioed it had 26 survivors from the Ioannis and 25 from the Stony Point.

Another German ship, the 1,710-ton coaster Keitum, reported it had 13 survivors but did not say which ship they came from.

Desperate calls went out for medical supplies. The big liner, America, with a hospital aboard, hurried into the area.

Law Partnership Is Formed by Manderino Bros.

The formation of a partnership for the practice of law has been announced by Attorneys Louis L. Manderino and James J. Manderino, brothers of Monessen. The partnership will practice under the name of Manderino and Manderino.

Attorney James J. Manderino, recently admitted to practice in Westmoreland County, joins his brother Louis, who established his offices in Monessen last November.

The brothers are graduates of Monessen High School and St. Vincent College. James is a graduate of the University of Michigan Law School and Louis is an alumnus of the Harvard Law School.

The Manderinos are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Antnony Manderino of 317 Sixth St., Monessen.

Hoffa on Trial for Bribery

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government today brought Teamster Union Vice President James R. Hoffa to trial on charges of bribing a Senate Rackets Committee investigator.

Being tried with him on the same charges was Hyman L. Fischbach, a Miami lawyer and an alleged accomplice.

Hoffa is one of three high-ranking Teamster officials currently fighting criminal charges brought by government. Union Vice President Frank Brewster of Seattle was on trial here in a courtroom not far from Hoffa on contempt of Congress charge. And Teamster President Dave Beck is under indictment on an income tax evasion charge.

Hoffa's future as a power in the 1,300,000 - member Teamster Union—the nation's largest—may lie in the outcome of today's trial. As the 44-year-old czar of the Teamsters Midwest conference, Hoffa long has been considered as Beck's heir-apparent.

Future at Stake

But Teamster officials said that if he is found guilty, his chances of succeeding Beck will fade.

A federal grand jury indicted him March 19 on charges of bribing a Rackets Committee investigator to slip him documents and secrets pertaining to its investigation of Beck and alleged corruption in the Teamsters Union.

If convicted on the three-count bribery-conspiracy charge, Hoffa could be sentenced to five years in jail and a fine amounting to three times the amount of the alleged bribe.

Moreover, the government plans to bring Hoffa to trial later on another indictment charging him with conspiring to spy on his own aides by tapping phone lines at his Detroit headquarters. If convicted of that, he could be sentenced to a year in jail and fined $10,000.

Named to Board

HARRISBURG (UP) — Gov. George M. Leader has asked the state Senate to confirm his reappointment of Michael J. Crosetto, 112 First St., Galeton, to the Pennsylvania Labor Relations Board, until June 2, 1963.

GOES TO POLAND — Jacob D. Beam (above) is President Eisenhower's nominee to succeed retiring Joseph E. Jacobs as ambassador to Poland. Beam, 49, a foreign service man since 1931, currently is deputy assistant secretary of state.

Korean Bonus Bill Is Sent to Leader's Desk

HARRISBURG (UP)—Enabling legislation to set up the machinery for payment of a proposed 150 million dollar state bonus to Korean War veterans reached Gov. George M. Leader's desk today.

The House Tuesday joined the Senate in adopting a conference committee report on the bill by unanimous vote. The measure would permit the state to pay an estimated 335,000 Pennsylvania veterans should the voters approve a constitutional amendment to go on the ballot next November on the question of authorizing the bonus.

The revised bill would pay veterans who were awarded the "Korean Service Medal" $15 per month for all overseas time served with the armed forces between June 27, 1950 and July 27, 1953. All other veterans would receive $10 per month regardless of where they served. Another provision would exempt career soldiers from the bonus entirely unless they had won the Korean medal.

The original bill specified $15 per month for all foreign service and $10 for statewide duty.

The maximum a veteran could receive would be $500. The legislation set Dec. 31, 1963 as the cut off date for submission of applications for the bonus.

State Democrats to Hear Truman Tonight

HARRISBURG (UP)—Pennsylvania Democrats will kick off their fund-raising campaign for the 1958 statewide elections with a $100-a-plate dinner here tonight featuring former President Harry S. Truman.

Truman, who was slated to arrive here at 1:13 p.m. edt from St. Louis, Mo., will share the speakers' platform with prominent state and national Democratic leaders, including Gov. George M. Leader and U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark.

The former president will lunch at the Executive Mansion with the governor and other Democratic leaders at 2 p.m. He will then return to his suite in a central-city hotel to rest and complete his speech to be delivered at the Zembo Mosque.

Democratic State Chairman Joseph M. Barr said Truman will level sharp criticism against Republican leaders in the General Assembly. He indicated the former president would center his speech around GOP cuts in administration budget requests.

"It will be evident when Mr. Truman is finished detailing this Republican record of callous disregard for the people of Pennsylvania that these Republican leaders are political throwbacks," Barr said.

Barr predicted a ticket sale of over 4,000 and the state committee anticipated a gross sale of more than $400,000 to be poured into party coffers for use in the 1958 election campaign.

Special trains will bring diners to Harrisburg from Pittsburgh and Philadelphia with stops en-route. Special buses will serve Scranton and other areas.

Editorials—

The Constitution Is Reasserted

THE ABILITY of the American system of government to correct its own excesses by due process of law is one of its greatest virtues as a human institution.

There is now cause to take note of and be thankful for this once more in two of the decisions announced by the U. S. Supreme Court on Monday.

In one of these the Court reversed the conviction of John T. Watkins, a labor leader, for contempt of Congress. Mr. Watkins had refused to tell the House Un-American Affairs Committee the names of persons he had known as Communists.

The Court decided that a committee of Congress has no right to inquire into private matters except to obtain information it "needs for the proper fulfillment of its role in our scheme of government." This role, of course, is the writing of laws, and the Court ruled that the testimony sought from Watkins was not necessary for this function.

In the other case the Supreme Court reversed the convictions of five California Communist leaders convicted under the Smith Act of advocating the overthrow of the government by force.

Here the Court made the subtle but — we believe — important distinction between "advocacy of abstract doctrine" and "advocacy directed at promoting unlawful action."

In other words, the Constitution gives the individual the right to make a speech saying that the government should be overthrown — by force if necessary. The government may interfere only if direct action is taken or advocated.

* * *

WITHOUT going into the details of these cases or exploring the language of the opinions, it is clear what the Court is doing. It is asserting once more the paramountcy of individual constitutional liberties over government authority. It is saying, in the Watkins case to the legislative branch of the government and in the California case to the executive branch, that these rights are inviolable.

It is rather a pity, of course, that Communists must be the immediate beneficiaries of this reassertion of constitutional liberties. But here again, is it not one of the tests of such liberties whether they are applicable to all, the unworthy as well as the worthy?

* * *

THESE DECISIONS should bring to an end, we would think, the excesses of congressional investigations. If they had been made some years ago, the late Senator McCarthy's career as a witch hunter would have been impossible.

This is not to minimize the seriousness of the Communist threat. Those who try to do that are being blind as well as foolish.

But it is to say that in this country we have better ways of meeting our national dangers than by reviving the methods of the inquisition. We do not save the liberties of those we like by trampling the liberties of those we do not like.

Hard but Necessary

AS A RESULT of the failure of some property owners in Monessen to pay their shares of the cost of street paving adjacent to their property, the City is having to borrow $[illegible]00 on a short term loan. Otherwise it could not pay its own current bills.

As we see it, this has been one of the serious weaknesses of the City's postwar improvement program. The failure to collect paving assessments promptly after the projects are completed prevents other streets from being paved as quickly as they could otherwise be.

Members of the Council are elected to [illegible] jobs, of course. And they would be [illegible] be human and certainly not very typical politicians if they did not pave a street with more enthusiasm than they show in collecting the paving assessments.

It is self-evident, nevertheless, that the collection of the assessments is as essential [illegible] job as awarding the contracts [illegible] the ribbons.

In these years of abundant prosperity, there [illegible] the average property owner [illegible] a reasonable paving assessment [illegible] reasonable time. Aside from a very [illegible] hardship cases, there is just no [illegible] for not following the procedures specified by the law and following them promptly. We hope the council does a better job in this respect in the future. If it does, much can be done and done faster by way of [illegible] street improvements.

Plan Urged To Keep Men In Services

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

From every piece of information I can find, it is evident that the Cordiner proposals, designed to arrest the massive exit of skilled men from the armed services, are being casually and expediently smothered by the administration.

Mr. Drummond

Here is an able, searching study of one of the acutest, most frustrating weaknesses of our defense system together with a series of recommendations which, for the first time, begin to reach a real solution — and what's happening to them?

Nothing — or less.

They received short shrift in the White House. The Bureau of the Budget, which takes its cue from the President, has frowned its sternest, most harrassed frown in the direction of the Pentagon and said "stop!" without even looking or listening very much.

As a result the Secretary of Defense, the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who unanimously endorsed this plan to modernize the pay and manpower structure of the armed services and were ready to ask Congress for legislation to put the plan into operation, are looking the other way. They are free to support a little bit of improvement — but not much.

Lose Men Rapidly

Here is the calamitous condition with which the Defense Advisory Committee, headed by Ralph J. Cordiner, president of the General Electric Co., together with a number of other highly qualified people outside and inside the government, wrestled for many months:

The central fact is that all of the armed services, but the Air Force particularly, are losing highly trained men so rapidly, because of the far greater incentives of private life, that training must be repeated at frightful expense and combat readiness is gravely undercut.

Illustration: At least 87 per cent of the enlisted men with electronic and other critical skills are quitting the armed forces as fast as they can.

Illustration: Fully 73 per cent of the junior officers are instantly returning to civilian life after completing obligated tours of duty.

Illustration: In a single year the Air Force loses 4,000 trained pilots whose departure represents a minimum training loss alone of $480,000,000.

The Cordiner report cites the "immensely wasteful expense of half a million men and billions of dollars of equipment tied up in repetitive training, contributing little to an improvement of the nations ready combat capability."

Plan Proposed

Can this wasteful, costly, debilitating training, re-training, and re-re-training — this continuous intake of inexperience and exit of experience — be stopped?

The Cordiner Committee believes it can be stopped by establishing a modern compensation plan to pay enlisted men and junior officers what their carefully graded expert and technical services are worth, instead of paying them on the basis of longevity of service only. This will encourage and reward outstanding performance, advanced skills and military careers of high quality personnel.

The results of such a program, the Cordiner Committee submits, would be:

1 — About a 15 per cent improvement in the combat capability with a change in the proposed budget. Or

2 — Savings up to $5 billion a year by 1962 of money in defense costs.

Fewer Accidents

3 — Sharp reductions in training accidents.

4 — Reduction in the number of military personnel required to produce a given level of national security.

There may well be some "bugs" in this program, but there has been no study of this attrition problem which has the credentials of the Cordiner Committee.

These proposals deserve to receive a far more receptive hearing than they have so far had. They certainly ought to be [illegible] before the [illegible] pigeonholed in the administration.

If the President is not ready or disposed to take the initiative, then it seems urgent that Congress should take the initiative to see that the Cordiner recommendations are rescued from oblivion.

Stassen Doing Effective Job

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — The blunt inside fact of the disarmament talks is that Russia jumped in and took over much of the U. S. disarmament plan while the United States was bickering over two things:

Mr. Pearson

1. Old guard Republican prejudice against modern Republican Harold Stassen as the disarmament negotiator.

2. The traditional Dulles determination to put Germany ahead of peace with Russia.

The Secretary of State has always bowed from the waist when anything German approached — dating from the days when, as attorney for New York banks, he urged the American public to invest in now worthless German bonds. So when re-election-worried Chancellor Adenauer demanded that German unification come before a disarmament agreement with Russia, Dulles got jittery.

Bickering over Stassen was one of the by-products. In the end it injected American domestic politics into the all-important settlement of peace. By injecting it we let the Russians get world credit for taking the initiative on something we were the first to propose — banning H-bomb tests. We did it secretly, however. The Russians did it publicly.

Stassen the Negotiator

Inside fact about Harold Stassen is that he is an excellent negotiator. He is tougher than [illegible] less. He can sit through hours of wrangling and diplomatic [illegible] then come back smiling with "All right now let's get back to the main point."

Even career [illegible] particularly [illegible] Stassen has given [illegible] chance for success.

But the [illegible] on the verge of [illegible] more Stassen is subject to [illegible] cutting at home. No [illegible] an American [illegible] to been subject to [illegible]. Every move that [illegible] Stassen is leaked. If John Foster Dulles has a long [illegible] which he [illegible] it is leaked as a [illegible]. If Stassen steps on Allied toes it is leaked that he is a diplomatic bungler.

Reason for these leaks is quite simple. Stassen stepped on some old guard toes and stepped on them hard when he opposed Nixon for Vice President last year. Furthermore, the old guard knows, and Nixon knows, that if Stassen should succeed and become the great achiever of disarmament, his political star would zoom to dangerous heights.

So every time Stassen appears on the verge of success, the boys around Nixon get jittery.

Big stakes are involved. Not merely the peace of the world, but the presidential nomination for 1960. This ought not to be true. Peace should not be mixed up with politics. But it is.

Was Stassen Reprimanded?

Specifically, Stassen was yanked back from London when Western Allies claimed he had gone over their heads and given a "talking paper" to the Russians. He had given the same paper to the French, British, and Germans, but they seemed to feel that he should talk only to them until the West had agreed on a common front.

Stassen on the other hand believed that two powers only hold the key to disarmament — the U.S.A. and U.S.S.R. If they can agree the others will come along.

Allied ambassadors promptly protested to Secretary Dulles that Stassen had gone over their heads. Dulles pretended he knew nothing about it and pulled Stassen home. Actually he did know about it. Stassen had kept him informed on everything, also had advance authority from Dulles to [illegible] to Soviet Delegate Zorin.

What burned Dulles up was the way Stassen allowed himself to get caught.

While Stassen was en route home, the Secretary of State went to see President Eisenhower, discussed with him whether Stassen should be fired. The President [illegible] opinion of Stassen's negotiating ability, but ducked [illegible] decision. He left the matter up to Dulles.

There followed a 90-minute session between Dulles and Stassen. This gave rise to reports that Stassen was reprimanded. In a [illegible] he was, in a sense he was not. During the long talk, Stassen spelled out to Dulles everything he had done in London and showed him that he hadn't said a word to the Russians that had not been authorized from Washington.

Dulles, in the end, concurred sent him back to London.

But, during all this bickering, the Russians got the jump on us. Hardly had Stassen unpacked his suitcase than Zorin publicly popped the American plan of a moratorium on H-bomb tests. Zorin went further. He proposed two to three years. Stassen had proposed one year. Zorin did not, however, go for Stassen's idea of a start toward the banning of all atomic weapons production, which the Pentagon considers all-important.

Most important of all, as seen through this confusion of diplomatic double-talk, is that the Russians have come a long, long way toward disarmament. The reasons why will be discussed in a future column. But if we can rise above political bickering at home, and diplomatic bickering abroad, there may be a real chance for a start toward peace.

The Cynic's Corner—

"I don't know if it's this beautiful summer day, or tranquilizer pills . . . !"

Quotes from The News

By UNITED PRESS

BERLIN — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles pledging U.S. support for German reunification in a message marking the fourth anniversary of the East German revolt against Communism:

"The desire of mankind to live in freedom and peace constitutes a force which cannot be resisted. My countrymen and I join with you in honoring the high cause to which you have dedicated this day."

WASHINGTON — Dr. Robert H. Felix, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, criticizing the use of tranquilizer pills for the relief of ordinary tensions and anxieties:

"Anxiety within normal limits is an essential part of normal personality development."

NEW YORK — The city Health Department advising New Yorkers how to keep cool during a heat wave:

"There are no new or novel ideas for surviving through hot spells in comfort and good health."

EVANSTON, Ill. — Undersecretary of State Christian A. Herter warning that abandonment of the U S foreign aid program would force underprivileged nations to turn to Russia for aid.

"Should we, by default, abandon these programs, it would not be long before we found the expansion of the Soviet bloc moving at a pace which might well leave us isolated."

WASHINGTON—Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn on the split in the Republican Party:

"The real division in American politics today is in the Democrat Party."

TRENTON, N.J. — Gov. Robert B. Meyner, expressing his sympathy to the family of Arthur T. Vanderbilt on the death of the state Supreme Court justice:

"They may take consolation in the knowledge that Arthur T. Vanderbilt in his lifetime made contributions to his fellow men that will be deathless."

Supreme Court Heads Into Bitter Disputes

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON (UP) — Twenty years have passed and the U. S. Supreme Court again is buying into a bitter controversy with another branch of the government.

Mr. Wilson

Moreover, the court is remodelling the social contours of the United States and stating dynamically new ground rules for the conduct of big business.

On its present course, the court is headed for controversy with both the other branches of the U S government—the executive and the legislative. The controversy with Congress was well joined this week in decisions stating abrupt limits on the conduct and authority of congressional committees.

Still More Controversy

The controversy with the executive is just around the corner. In its decisions Monday the court bore down hard on the rights of individuals and against the authority of congressional committees and government prosecutors. It ruled that congressional committees, on demand, must tell witnesses that the questions it asks are pertinent to specific purposes and must specify the purpose. It did so in throwing out a contempt conviction against Illinois union leader John T Watkins, who had refused to name persons he had known in the Communist movement.

Far from all congressmen will object to that ruling and many will applaud it. There is a hard core of senators and representatives, however, closely identified with and well informed about the effort to expose Communism in the United States from whom the protests already are flowing.

The controversy with the executive is headed for the high court in the case of William S. Girard, the U. S. soldier who was ordered turned over to the Japanese government for trial on charges of shooting and killing a Japanese woman. The Constitution says U. S. citizens are entitled to a trial by certain stipulated processes.

Federal Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy may have taken due note of this week's Supreme Court urgency to protect the rights of individuals in the area of Communism. However that may be, he ruled here Tuesday in defense of Girard's rights as an American citizen.

Called Constitutional Violation

"The threatened action (to permit the Japanese to try Girard) is illegal and in violation of the Constitution and laws of the United States," McGarraghy said in his order forbidding the government to deliver the soldier to the Japanese.

That case will go to the Supreme Court where, on the basis of the record to date, the justices will rule against President Eisenhower and the State and Defense Departments who would permit the Japanese to try Girard.

That should arouse the administration considerably in view of the fact that the trial of Girard by a Japanese court evidently has become a major issue of foreign policy bearing on U. S relations with the Asiatic nations.

The Girard case is a sensitive nerve end of American diplomacy, presumably much in the President's mind.

The court's trend, of late, and its challenge to the other branches recalls Franklin D. Roosevelt's notable dispute with the justices. They had held great areas of his first term New Deal to be unconstitutional. On Feb. 2, 1937, FDR sent to Congress a bill to reform or to re-organize or to pack the Supreme Court.

Roosevelt wanted to name some additional justices to assure a more friendly reception to his idea of a flexible constitution. Months of controversy ended in July, 1937, by Senate refusal to act on the Roosevelt court bill. FDR lost that battle, but he won the war.

Today's Supreme Court is just about what he had in mind.

Behind The News—

Ghana's Leader Having A Wonderful Time

By CHARLES M. McCANN

Kwame Nkrumah, leader of Africa's newest nation, seems to be having a wonderful time.

Not only is he prime minister of Ghana, the former British Gold Coast colony, but he also is its foreign and defense minister.

Mr. McCann

He enjoys virtual dictatorial power as head of his Convention People's Party.

He has moved into magnificent Christiansborg Castle, which used to be the residence of the British colonial governor.

And now Nkrumah is having his own head, instead of that of Queen Elizabeth II, put on Ghana's stamps and coins.

His political opponents are not pleased. They complain that he spent nearly $200,000 in having the 300-year-old castle, built by Danish traders, fixed up for himself and his mother. He is a bachelor and she is his official hostess.

Supporters Answer Complaints

Nkrumah's supporters say the castle was renovated to house the Duchess of Kent, who represented her niece Queen Elizabeth when Ghana attained its independence last March 6 as the ninth member of the British Commonwealth.

The opponents retort that with Nkrumah occupying the castle, the taxpayers will have to pay for the construction of a new and equally impressive residence for the new British governor-general.

In the castle incident, and in the decision to put Nkrumah's head on the stamps and coins, his opponents see signs of delusions of grandeur and hint that Ghana is heading toward a dictatorship which might take either a Fascist or an extreme leftist slant.

Nkrumah said in his inaugural speech that he would pursue a pro-Western policy. He asked Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who represented President Eisenhower at the ceremony, for American cooperation.

Nkrumah's enemies say that at one time he carried a Communist Party membership card. Nkrumah points out that it was unsigned. He says he carried it only so he could get into Communist meetings and learn about Communist techniques. He describes himself as a Marxian Socialist. Both Britain and the United States regard him as a democratic-minded man and an anti-Communist.

Nkrumah is 47. He is an eloquent speaker. He has a thick head of bushy frizzled hair.

He was born in a mud hut, the son of a goldsmith. After he attended a Roman Catholic mission school and Achimota College in the Gold Coast, a diamond-prospecting uncle gave him the money to go to the United States. Nkrumah entered Lincoln University, near Philadelphia in 1935. He took degrees as a bachelor of arts and of sacred theology.

Returns Home In 1947

After his graduation, he became an instructor in philosophy, and also took the degree of master of arts in anthropology at the University of Pennsylvania. After 10 years in the United States, he went to London and returned home in 1947 after attending the London School of Economics.

As soon as he got home, Nkrumah got political. He was jailed for taking part in strike riots and later got a three-year prison term for fomenting strikes. While he was in prison, Britain gave its colony a constitution and held elections. Nkrumah's party won a landslide victory.

The governor, accepting him as a popular hero, released him and he was made leader of the native government, with powers approximating those of a prime minister.

Former Local Girl Weds Trenton Man

Announcement is being made here of the marriage of Jacqueline White, daughter of Mrs. Virginia White and the late Clyde White to Leo E. Backes. The Whites now reside on Stanford Rd., Fairless Hills, but lived in Monessen for many years. The bridegroom is the son of William C. Backes, of Trenton, N. J., and the late Mrs. Backes.

The wedding was an event of Saturday, June 8, at 11 o'clock in the morning at St. Francis Cabrini Church, Fairless Hills, with the Rev. Joseph Walsh officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, Frank Seamon, of Clarksburg, W. Va. She chose a full length gown of white Chantilly lace fashioned with a high neckline, Queen Anne collar and long sleeves ending in points over the wrists. The bodice was fitted and skirt bouffant in fashion. A seed pearl and sequin crown held her sheer illusion veil. She carried a white Prayer Book topped with a gardenia.

Carolyn White, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Her gown was of yellow lace and she wore a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of yellow rosebuds. The bridesmaids were Dorothy Lash, of Fairless Hills and Kay Janocik, of Trenton, N. J., who selected pale blue lace and carried bouquets of blue tinted carnations.

There were two little flower girls, Gail Lynn Phillips, of Fairless Hills and Debra DeSellems, of Bristol. They wore gowns of orchid lace and carried baskets of Spring flowers.

Earl Canera, of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, was best man and the ushers were Michael Brown, of Trenton and James Sate, of Fairless Hills.

The mother of the bride selected a pink lace dress with white accessories and a carnation corsage. The grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Anna White, of Belle Vernon, was present and she wore an orchid sheer dress with an orchid carnation corsage.

A wedding breakfast was served at Holiday Inn and a reception was held for 200 relatives and friends at the Aurora Hall, Trenton, at 6 p. m.

After a two week trip to Florida the couple will reside on Kinter St., Trenton. Both are employed at General Motors Inc. The bride was graduated from Pennbury High School and the bridegroom from Trenton Catholic High School and from General Motors Institute at Flint, Mich., where he received a degree in industrial engineering.

Jane Ann Bost Is Feted at Bridal Shower

A surprise bridal shower was held recently in honor of Jane Ann Bost, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bost, of Patton Ave. She will become the bride of Roger Clingerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Clingerman, of McMahon Ave. on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock in St. Paul Lutheran Church.

Hostess for the affair was Sally Kachmarik, who along with Donna Bost, sister of the bride and Mrs. Martha Zollars, aunt of the bride-elect, will be members of the wedding party.

Games were played and prizes were given after which pictures were taken.

Buffet refreshments were served and the table was appointed in a yellow and white motif and centered with a decorated cake inscribed "Congratulations Jane and Roger".

Another table over which was suspended a decorated umbrella and a bridal doll used as the centerpiece held the many gifts given Miss Bost. Miniature favors were used as favors.

This May Be Casey's Last Year with Yanks

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—The band will play on, but this could be the year when Casey goes out with the strawberry blonde.

The New York Yankees deny that there is a feud between George Weiss and Casey Stengel. But the once-congenial atmosphere is tense and electric and Old Case is a proud man.

And Edna, Casey's strawberry blonde, has been after him to step down as manager for several years now.

Casey is a man who loves baseball. Wealthy in his own right, Stengel doesn't need the game financially. He stays in it because he thrives on the daily excitement and the success which finally came to him as skipper of the Yankees after years of being regarded as a diamond "clown" who couldn't manage an automatic dishwasher.

No More Joy-Ride

But suddenly it isn't the old joy-ride of the last eight happy years.

It has become all too obvious that Weiss, the portly general manager, is the master of the marionettes.

There may have been some question, until recently, as to whether Casey helped pick his ball players. The general impression was that he did. This illusion, plus his managerial success afield was enough to inflate and feed the ever-hungry Stengel ego.

But when the Yankees swapped off Billy Martin to Kansas City in a four-for-three deal the window dressing was ripped aside.

Martin was Casey's "boy." Stengel had him at Oakland and brought him up to the Yankees. He had a vast, unconcealed admiration for the scrappy infielder and, having been a gay blade himself in the old days, could chuckle behind a gnarled hand at Broadway Billy's antics.

The recent fistic floor show at the Copacabana would have been shrugged off by Stengel. But it was the final payment on a ticket west for Martin as far as Weiss was concerned. "Uncle George" long has considered Martin a bad influence on Mickey Mantle, once ordering them to steer clear of the downtown lights.

So when Martin was labeled as one of the instigators in the Copa clash, Weiss took matters into his own hands—as usual.

Stengel didn't have much to say about the trade. But he indicated it wasn't his handiwork, nor that it had his approval.

Hungry Thief

HONOLULU (UP) — A thief broke into a restaurant Tuesday and stole 15 pounds of ham, 10 pounds of stew meat, 6 pounds of margarine, 5 pounds of uncooked pork, 4 pounds of fish, 4 dozen eggs, 100 pounds of rice and a case of canned cream. He also took small double-burner electric stove.

Fleas Succumb

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — The owner of an amusement park show was combing his dog for new talent today. His 20 star performers collapsed and died Tuesday of heat prostration while running a merry-go-round and competing in a chariot race in 100-degree weather. The victims were members of a flea circus.

In ancient Greece, small pieces of bread were used in place of napkins. They were disposed of by throwing them on the floor for the dogs to eat.

CIO Earns Tie for 1st Place

CIO moved into a first place tie in the PONY League last night by slamming the Eagles, 11-1.

The Lions helped out by knocking off the pace-setting Ravens, 11-2.

Those results considerably tightened the race. Only a game separates the top three teams.

CIO got a great two-hit pitching job from Harry Vernet.

Ted Darby helped out at bat with a triple while Dave Bergstedt and Eton Karenchak chipped in with doubles.

Tony Romasco and Ted Domenick teamed up to pace the Lions to their win over the Ravens.

Romasco fashioned a three-hitter while Domenick slashed a home run and double.

PONY League action will resume tomorrow when the Eagles will meet the Lions and Ravens will take on CIO.

Last night's line scores follow:

Lions . . . . 260 102—11 11 2
Ravens . . . . 100 001— 2 3 1

Charlie Coe Opens Defense Of Net Title

DALLAS (UP) — Charlie Coe, the Oklahoma thin man who will serve as non-playing captain of this year's Walker Cup team, opened defense of his Trans-Mississippi golf championship today.

It will be the veteran Coe, an Oklahoma City insurance man who has been winning golf titles for a decade of more, against a strong field of youthful challengers in this 54th revival of one of the top amateur competitions in the nation.

Coe starts out the 126-hole match play grind that could lead to his fifth Trans Miss corwn against a little known Houston entry, Chuck Dresser, who slipped into the 64-player title flight with a five over par 76 in Tuesday's portion of qualifying play.

Not a one of the 130-odd would-be qualifiers even managed to match par Tuesday. And that left the medalist honors safely in the hands of Jack Moore, the Big Seven conference champion from the University of Oklahoma.

Moore, a 19-year-old sophomore from Duncan, Okla., had mastered the Brook Hollow layout with a 33-35—68 in scorching heat on Monday.

Vets, CIO 'Offical' Little League Champs

The first half race in the Little League officially came to a close last night, with CIO and VFW walking off with the laurels.

Those two teams had actually clinched their respective division titles earlier in the week.

As a matter of fact, CIO lost its finale yesterday to Legion, 5-1, but the setback had no bearing on the race.

VFW closed out in a blaze of glory, though, winning two previously suspended games. The Vets first knocked off Page Local, 26-5, then nipped Park Service, 4-3.

The second half race in both divisions will begin tonight.

In the American race, Page Local will meet Park Service while the Ravens will take on VFW at Memorial Stadium.

National Games

Over in the National Division, Elks will play the Lions and CIO will tackle the Legion in a twin bill at the Stadium Annex.

The second half winners will challenge the first half champions in post-season action.

This year, the two eventual division winners will also meet for the city crown.

Complete first half standings follow:

Ravens Top ULBA in Softball

The Ravens have won at last in the 1957 City Softball League race.

They tripped ULBA, 6-1, last night behind solid six hit pitching by Ed Chuprinko.

For six innings, Chuprinko was working on a shutout. Then in the seventh, ULBA scored on two singles and a sacrifice for their lone run.

Delio Perozzi and George Calnan paced the Birds at bat with a pair of hits each.

Tonight the Ravens will play again, meeting PNA.

Ozarks Take on Perry Tonight

Hope to Regain Winning Form In Mon Valley Baseball Race

Monessen's in-and-out Ozarks will play host to Perryopolis tonight at Ninth Street Park.

The Ozarks are currently fifth in the league standings with a 9-9 record. However they are within easy striking distance of both Donora and Perryopolis, tied for third.

Manager Pappy Johnson's Ozarks just can't seem to get any consistent win streak going. They were badly battered on Monday by Fayette City, 11-2.

In other Valley League games tonight, West Newton will go to Donora, Charleroi to Fayette City and New Eagle to Van Voorhis.

The big game of course, will match second place Charleroi against first place Fayette City.

Win or lose, FC will stay atop the standings. However a Charleroi win will slash the Fayette advantage to a mere half game.

Four MVL games are also scheduled for Friday when Monessen will go to New Eagle, Van Voorhis will appear at Charleroi, Fayette City will travel to West Newton and Donora will show at Perryopolis.

DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

Keep Head Still

The body should never move sideways on the backswing. It should simply turn while the head should be kept immobile.

When you move sideways or sway, you aren't lined up with the hole anymore. If you return at impact to the exact position you were in at the start of the swing, you will have compensated for the sway and will probably hit the ball straight. But don't count on this!

What usually happens is that you over-compensate for the sway and get the body ahead of the hands at impact. Whenever this happens, you can't help but push the ball to the right of your objective.

The best way to defeat the sway is to keep the head still. Never let the head move off the ball. It is as simple as that.

Announce Plans For City's Annual All-Wheels Event

Monessen's 12th annual "All-Wheels Carnival" will be staged from June 26 through July 2, according to an announcement today by Recreation Director Thomas D'Errico.

As usual, Special Events Director Frederic Feldman will be in charge of the carnival. He will be assisted by playground instructors.

All Monessen youngsters are invited to participate in the carnival. Prizes will be awarded to both boys and girls for the best decorated bike, best decorated trike, best decorated scooter and best decorated wagon, baby buggy and tire.

There will be field events, too, including scooter races, trike races, tire rolling and slow races for both boys and girls.

Youngsters between the ages of 4 and 14 may register for the carnival at the playground nearest their home.

Award Prizes

Monessen Vulcanizing and Retreading will again award prizes while Mayor Hugo Parente will supply his usual treat to all participants.

Here is the All-Wheels schedule:

At Washington, June 26, 7 p. m.;
At Jefferson, June 27, 7 p. m.;
At Linden, June 28, 2 p. m.
At Vocational, July 2, 7 p. m.

The City Park area will take part in the carnival at Vocational. Both the Shawnee and Iowa youngsters will compete at Linden. The Lincoln boys and girls will take part at Washington.

Three Detroit Players Polling Heavy Votes

NEW YORK, (UP) — Three members of the Detroit Tigers are piling up early leads in the balloting for berths on the American League all-star team that will meet the National League's top stars at St. Louis, July 9.

Rookie Reno Bertoia of the Tigers has opened almost a 3,000-point lead over Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees in their race for the starting third baseman on the AL team.

Harvey Kuenn is enjoying even a greater runaway in the shortstop balloting with 19,362 votes, while Al Kaline also holds a big edge in the right field derby.

The other American League leaders include first baseman Vic Wertz of the Cleveland Indians, second baseman Nelli Fox of the Chicago White Sox, left fielder Ted Williams of the Red Sox and center fielder Mickey Mantle of the Yankees, and catcher Yogi Berra of the Yankees.

The leaders for the National League starting berths are first baseman Stan Musial of the Cardinals, second baseman Red Schoendienst of the Braves, shortstop Roy McMillan of the Redlegs, third baseman Eddie Mathews of the Braves, left fielder Frank Robinson of the Redlegs, center fielder Willie Mays of the Giants, right fielder Hank Aaron of the Braves, and catcher Ed Bailey of the Redlegs.

Brown-Zulueta in Title Bout Tonight

By GENE MEAKINS

DENVER (UP)—Champion Joe Brown, a rugged puncher for a lightweight, is favored to catch elusive Cuban challenger Orlando Zulueta often enough tonight to retain his title in a scheduled 15-rounder at Denver Coliseum.

Brown, 31, is a 2-1 favorite over the 28-year old Havanan, although Zulueta has never hit the canvas in 100 fights. His fancy boxing and strong left could lift the champion's slightly-worn crown. Brown has worn the crown less than a year.

The Baton Rouge, La., champion, who defeated Wallace (Bud) Smith for the title and again in his only defense in a re - match, was expected to weight ounces short of the 135-pound limit. Zulueta was well under the limit, at 134½.

6-Ounce Gloves

Zulueta's camp lost a pre-fight skirmish Tuesday when the Colorado Athletic Commission ruled 6-ounce gloves would be used instead of the 8-ounce ones called for in commission rules.

Manager Hymie Wallman charged the commission was giving Brown the championship "before it gets started," pointing out that the lighter glover helps a "puncher" like Brown.

Commissioner Leo J. Crowley said the 8-ounce rule was "our rule and we can change it." Most championship bouts, outside Colorado, which has not had a title bout since 1918, are fought with the 6-ounce glove.

Other Commission Rulings

In addition, the commission Waived a rule that any fight be stopped after three knockdowns in a single round; —Eliminated its mandatory 8-count; Retained its 5-point "must" system for judging (a winner of a round "must" get 5 points, and all draw rounds are worth 5 points to each boxer).

Both men were in "peak" conditions, according to their trainers.

Brown scored a 10-round decision over Zulueta in their only previous meeting—before Brown was champion.

The fight will be carried on television (ABC) at 10 p. m., e.d.t. with the Denver area blacked out.

Promoter Joe Dupler reported a $15,000 advance sale, which he said indicated a crowd of 6,000 and a gate of $30,000 to $35,000.

Brown takes a 63-14-8 record into the ring, while Zulueta's is 2-27-11.

U. S. Congressman Warns Against Sports Legislation

WASHINGTON (UP)—A Florida congressman who once was both a baseball player and official said today that putting the sport under anti-trust regulation would cause "perhaps irreparable injury to the great American game."

Democratic Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr. made the statement in testimony prepared for a House judiciary subcommittee which is studying the anti-trust status of professional sports.

Baseball Commissioner Ford C Frick and minor league President George M. Trautman also were scheduled to testify today. They too were ready to go to bat for continued exemption of baseball from federal anti-trust laws.

Herlong, a former minor league official and one-time "good field-no hit" first baseman in the minors, said blanketing baseball under anti-trust laws could result in "abolition or substantial limitation" of baseball's reserve clause.

Under the reserve clause, a player must stick with the team he first contracts with, unless traded or sold.

Without the reserve clause, Herlong said, a minor league team couldn't control its players's contracts and would lose an "important source" of income since it couldn't control its players' contracts in the majors.

"From my experience I say categorically that minor league baseball could not operate without the reserve clause and related regulations," Herlong said.

Parnell Retires From Baseball

BOSTON (UP) — Mel Parnell who won more games than any other southpaw pitcher in the history of the Boston Red Sox, has announced his retirement from baseball.

Parnell, troubled by a bad pitching arm, told general manager Joe Cronin Tuesday that his New Orleans physician advised him not to pitch during the rest of the season.

The Boston southpaw, who hasn't pitched an inning this year, asked to be kept on the Red Sox roster until July 11 when he will become a 10-year veteran and eligible for voluntary retirement. Cronin granted the request.

Shantz Wins Again as Yankees Close in on American Loop Lead

By FRED DOWN

Bobby Shantz, the New York Yankees' 142-pound pitching giant, owns an 8-1 record and 1.86 earned run average today that make him baseball's No. 1 candidate for "comeback of the year" honors.

Shantz, showing the same form that made him the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1952, turned in his seventh straight victory Tuesday night when he beat the Detroit Tigers, 2-1, to move the Yankees within 2½ games of the first - place Chicago White Sox. The White Sox suffered their sixth loss in 10 games when Billy Pierce walked over the winning run in a 2-1 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Orioles.

Bobby Richardson, the man who made Billy Martin expendable, delivered a sacrifice fly in the second inning and singled home the winning yankee run in the fifth to help hand Billy Hoeft his fourth defeat. A crowd of 33,124 saw the Tigers score their only run on a walk and two singles.

Pierce Loser No. 4

Pierce suffered his fourth loss against 10 wins when he walked Billy Gardner, Bob Nieman and Jim Busby in succession to give the Orioles their decisive run. George Zuverink shut out the White Sox for the last 2 2-3 innings to gain credit for his seventh victory for Baltimore.

The Cleveland Indians shaded the Boston Red Sox, 7-6, and the Kansas City Athletics beat the Washington Senators, 2-0, in the other AL games. Chico Carrasquel, Vic Wertz, Rocky Colavito and Roger Maris homered for the Indians as Bob Lemon, in his first appearance since May 24, won his fourth game.

Ralph Terry, the ex - Yankee, pitched 5-hit ball for 8 2-3 innings for the Athletics and Virgil Trucks struck out Art Schult with the bases filled for the final out. Homers by Lou Skizas and Vic Power produced the Kansas City runs that tagged Ted Abernathy with his seventh defeat.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers dumped Cincinnati into fifth place with a 7-0 victory over the Redlegs; the New York Giants whipped the first-place Milwaukee Braves, 5-4, the Philadelphia Phillies downed the Chicago Cubs, 7-6, and the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-1.

Don Newcombe pitched a five-hitter and drove in two runs with a double and a homer as the Dodgers tagged the slumping Redlegs with their fourth straight loss and eighth in nine games. The Dodgers combed five Cincinnati pitchers for 13 hits as Newcombe flipped his third shutout for his sixth triumph.

Giants Keep Rilling

Ray Crone shut out his ex-teammates for six innings to win his first game for the Giants who've won six of their last seven games. Daryl Spencer's two - run sixth-inning single was the decisive blow after an error by Bill Bruton paved the way for Warren Spahn's fourth loss. Wes Westrum homered for the Giants.

Rookie Harry Anderson's grand slam and Rip Repulski's three-run homer provided the Phillies with all their runs as Jim Hearn picked up his first win with 4 1-3 innings of one-run relief pitching. Hearn struck out six of the 15 batters he faced after rookie Jack Sanford, trying for his ninth win, fanned seven batters in 4 2-3 frames.

Bonus pitcher Art Swanson pitched a four-hitter in his first big league start and was backed by a 12-hit Pittsburgh attack that included two homers by Bill Virdon. Larry Jackson yielded nine hits and four runs in 6 2-3 innings to suffer his third loss compared with eight wins.

Swanson Pitches Pirates to 8-1 Win over Cards

ST. LOUIS (UP)—Bonus baby Art Swanson, pitching his first major league start, hurled the Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-1 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday night.

The 20-year-old righthander, who pitched but 22 innings of relief in the past two years, held the Cards scoreless until the ninth inning when a walk, two infield outs and an infield hit combined for a single run. Swanson allowed four hits during the game.

The Pirates, paced by Bill Virdon, combined 12 hits for their eight runs. Virdon accounted for three of the tallies. He belted his second home run of the season in the second inning to send Frank Thomas around and got another round-tripper in the seventh with none aboard.

Bob Skinner, coming in as a pinchhitter, knocked in two Pirate runs in the eighth inning and Paul Smith singled a few minutes later to bring home two more runs. The Pirates scored another tally in the seventh on a forceout.

The Cubs and Cards tangle in a twi-night doubleheader today. Luis Arroyo (2-6) and Vernon Law (3-3) are the scheduled starters for Pittsburgh with Lindy McDaniel (6-3) and Sam Jones (3-2) slated for St. Louis.

Louis Talks to Ray Robinson

NEW YORK (UP)—Joe Louis probably will save the million-dollar Ray Robinson-Carmen Basilio fight before next Monday's deadline.

The former heavyweight champion has been sent in as a mediator to break the deadlock between promoter Jim Norris and Sugar Ray.

Louis now is a $20,000-a-year public relations man for Norris' International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois, and he is also a close friend of Robinson.

Big Joe had his first huddle with the middleweight champion Tuesday night, and the previously bitter Robinson reported "some progress."

Sugar Ray broke with Norris two weeks ago and declared he "definitely" would not defend his 160-pound crown against Basilio, the welterweight champion, for Norris at the Polo Grounds in September.

U. S. Production Of Newsprint Up, Experts Predict

WASHINGTON (UP)—The government says U.S. production of newsprint is increasing so rapidly that by 1959 American mills should should be able to supply about one-third of the nation's newsprint consumption.

Last year they supplied only about 23 per cent and prior to 1950, only 18 per cent.

The Commerce Department reported to Congress Monday that, by 1959 American dependence on imported newsprint may be cut by one-half million tons below last year's level.

The department's report was submitted to a House commerce subcommittee by H B McCoy, administrator of the department's Business and Defense Services Administration.

The subcommittee requested the report 13 months ago. McCoy termed it the first comprehensive study ever prepared by the department analyzing future supply and demand for one of the nation's major manufacturing industries.

The United States steel industry has about half a million stockholders.

Farmers Need More 'Truth'

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower urged radio and television farm directors today to give farmers the "unvarnished truth" about agricultural problems.

He said in a brief greeting to members of the National Association of Television and Radio Farm Directors that there is nothing that modern - day farmers need more than "facts and information."

In another meeting with delegates to the National Four-H Club convention, Eisenhower told the youngsters:

"Just a few years from now I will be really farming in earnest, and maybe I'll call on some of you for advice. I'll need it."

To Speed Action on Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland predicted today that the Senate will by pass its Judiciary Committee to speed action on President Eisenhower's House-approved civil rights bill.

Knowland made the prediction to newsmen as Republicans set out to take away from northern and western Democrats the leadership in the fight for the civil rights bill.

The strategy of the measure's supporters was to take advantage of a parliamentary maneuver to put it directly on the Senate calendar. Under usual procedure, it would be referred to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) and three other southern opponents of civil rights legislation, have bottled up a similar bill in the Judiciary Committee for the past three months. Supporters feared the House bill would suffer the same fate in the committee.

First Reading

The Senate agreed to first reading of the House bill shortly after noon today. But the parliamentary maneuvering wasn't expected to start until Thursday on the second reading.

The House approved the bill 218-126 Tuesday after eight days of debate, sometimes stormy. Southern opponents also lost, 158-251, in a final effort to weaken the four-point bill with a controversial jury trial amendment.

The preliminary skirmish in the Senate was not expected to last more than a few days at most. the parliamentary situation was shaping up so that southerners couldn't filibuster now.

The showdown fight, which could last for weeks, probably will start next month.

Released from Term in County

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP)—Mrs. A. B. Altieri, Pittsburgh, who had just been released after serving three years in the Women's Industrial Home at Muncy for passing a bad check in Allegheny County, was granted freedom on probation today when she pleaded guilty to a similar charge brought in Westmoreland County.

Judge Richard D. Laird set the length of the probation at two years and ordered Mrs. Altieri to pay costs of prosecution. She admitted passing a worthless check for $50 here March 25, 1954. Restitution was made.

23 Receive Holy Communion In Class at St. Edward's

Sixteen girls and seven boys were in the class of 23 receiving first communion on Sunday at St. Edward's Catholic Church, Fayette City.

The procession marking the opening of mass was led by the cross bearer, altar boys, and church pastor, the Rev. Charles Ribick.

They received communion with their parents and following mass were guests of the Christian Mothers at a communion breakfast in the church social rooms.

The members of the class included:

Dianne Kostalac, Donna Maria Duda, Deborah McKee, Nancy McGinsky, Geraldine Claybaugh, Victoria Vesely, Dora Ann Nutter, Dorothy Vargo, Susan Salko, Diane Legros, Lorraine Krivda, Linda Skibo, Barbara Saldish, Patricia Mitchell, Anne Marie Yusko and Christine Aront. The boys were Raymond Sopsic, Joseph Onufer, David Napela, Joseph Kroskie, Michael Bennett, Ronald Krivda and Carman Bielski.

Angels for the procession were selected from the most recent class. The girls included Victoria Yellatz, Marcia Sabolek, Arlene McKee, Marie Levindosky, Diana Galla, and Caroline Ornot. Altar boys were P. J. Vesely, Aland Rocca, David Torcheck, Stanley Koliscak, Bernard Koliscak and Thomas Pollock.

The communion breakfast was served by Catherine Berna and Margaret Baran, co-chairman, Mary Vargo, Marie Kolaschi, Helen Bolchak and Kathryn Vesely.

Women's Society Spring Festival This Evening

The annual Spring Festival of the Woman's Society for Christian Service of the Fayette City Methodist Church will be held this evening at the church.

Beginning at 4 p. m. refreshments will be served at tables arranged on Fourth St. The dinner will consist of sandwiches, baked beans, salads and desserts.

In the church social rooms booths have been arranged and committees have been busy securing novelties, handwork, attic treasures, and gifts for parcel post sale. There will also be a baked goods and candy counter.

The public is invited.

Lions Club Plans Installation Here

The Fayette City Lions Club will hold its regular semi-monthly meeting tomorrow evening at 6:30 in the social rooms of the Methodist Church.

The recently elected officers will be installed. The program will be in charge of Dr. Aland C. Dent. Richard Richardson, the retiring president will be in charge of the meeting.

Young Adults Meet

The Young Adult class of the Fayette City Methodist Church will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of Millard Hare. Helen Grados will help serve.

Auto Fees at Presque Studied

HARRISBURG (UP)—Legislation to permit Presque Isle State Park at Erie to levy up to a 25 cent admission fee for automobiles was in the Senate today for concurrence in House revisions.

The House approved the bill Tuesday, 112-75, after inserting amendments to exempt commercial vehicles from the tax and authorize the sale of ticket books.

Opponents of the bill argued it would set a "bad example" by creating an admission fee to a state park while the other 110 parks remained free. However, Erie County lawmakers said the park's state aid had been cut and it could not exist without another source of revenue.

'Atoms-for-peace' Is Approved by Senate

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate after long delay has overwhelmingly ratified President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" treaty.

The Senate ratified the international treaty Tuesday night on a 67-19 roll call vote. Nine Democrats and 10 Republicans voted against it.

The treaty—so far ratified by a total of 11 nations including Russia—would create an international atomic energy agency.

The agency would promote peaceful uses of atomic energy and provide non-military nuclear materials to atomic have-not nations.

Eighteen nations including three of the major atomic powers—United States, Russia, Britain, France and Canada—must ratify the treaty to put it into effect. The necessary number of nations are expected to ratify it quickly now that the United States has.

Eisenhower proposed the agency in 1953 in a dramatic appearance before the United Nations General Assembly. He already has promised the United States will provide the agency with 80 million dollars worth of non-military uranium 235.

Economic: Senate Democrats sought detailed answers from Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey on the administration's "tight money" policies. The Democrats denied GOP charges that they were playing politics. Humphrey went before the Senate Finance Committee for the second day in the opening hearings of its broad study of the administration's fiscal policies.

TV hearings: Speaker Sam Rayburn was reported about to clamp down on further TV hearings by the House Committee On Un-American Activities. Rayburn said a ruling he made several years ago against broadcasting or televising House committee procedures still stands.

Flood insurance: The House refused for the second time this year to vote an appropriation to put into effect the administration's federal flood insurance program. The bill had been approved by the Senate.

Russia Not Ready To Fly Satellite

MOSCOW (UP)—A leading Soviet scientist said the Soviet Union still has many technical difficulties to solve before her artificial earth satellite can be completed.

Academician Yevgeni Fedorov said Tuesday that the Soviet scientists will "surely overcome" the difficulties and the satellite would be launched during the geophysical year which begins July 1. He refused to speculate on a target date although Alexander Nesmeyanov, president of the Academy of Sciences said it would be within "several months."

Most Completely Changed Buick in History!

NEW VERTICAL-VALVE V8 ENGINE has built-in "power-pack" at no extra cost.

NEW VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW* gives unsurpassed smoothness plus new instant response even without switching the pitch.

WIDE-CHANNEL X-BRACED FRAME forms a rigid, firm foundation for the new Buick ride.

NEW CHASSIS provides superb roadability, lower center of gravity—yet keeps full road clearance.

BALL-JOINT FRONT SUSPENSION provides easier steering, surer control on curves and corners.

"NESTED" RIDE CRADLES BODY into frame for a smoother, more balanced ride.

DROP-CENTER TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE imparts ride stability, makes more headroom and legroom.

POWERFUL NEW BRAKES (air-cooled aluminum front drums on Roadmaster 75) give surer, quicker straight-line stops.

QUIET REAR AXLE with ratio balanced to engine for even quicker response, greater fuel economy.

LOWER, ROOMIER BODIES provide full headroom, longer legroom, more rear-seat "stretch" room.

EXCLUSIVE SAFETY-BUZZER* sounds a signal when speed exceeds the pace you preset.

PLUS 150 OTHER SPARKLING NEW ENGINEERING FEATURES

Take a look at that panel, and listen to the big news:

Every feature, as described here, never existed until the '57 Buick was built. Every feature — and these are just some of the major ones — is totally new in the '57 Buick.

But what's most completely changed is the performance of this great Buick.

It's a car that drives and rides and brakes and steers and handles like no other car you ever knew before.

No words we can say will make you feel what's here. You must take the wheel and learn what happens when you and this '57 Buick come alive together. So drop in this week. A wonderful new experience is waiting for you.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Series.*

Good Samaritan Class Meets; Hears Reports

Twenty members and two guests attended the June meeting of the Good Samaritan Sunday School Class of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church last Friday evening.

Mrs. Audrey Myers was in charge of devotions, using as her topic, "We Are the Light". The group joined hands to form a prayer circle, following which they sang a hymn. Mrs. Myers read a poem, then everyone joined in the Lord's Prayer. Scripture passages were read by Mrs. Marvis Lenk and Mrs. Sophia Rieser. A story, "We Are the Light" was read by the leader, with a special prayer ending the devotions. Mrs. Lois Murdock was accompanist.

The group heard a report on the Sunday School Association convention banquet served recently. A donation will be made to Parish Abroad by the class.

It was decided that the class will have a pie sale on July 17 and 18. There will be five different varities of pie offered for sale with each member taking orders.

Lunch was served by Emma Prosba, Evelyn Antoszyk and Thelma Medsger. The entertainment committee for June was Mrs. Alice Crossland, Lois Murdock and Mrs. Sophia Rieser.

Church School in Regular Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Church School Association of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church was held in the parish house last evening. This month's topic was, "Space and Equipment Are Valuable" with Betty Rak as leader.

Injured in Fall

Gust Samios Sr., of North Third St. is recovering from painful head and back injuries received in a fall at his home last Saturday morning.

To Hold Meeting

The Brotherhood of Christ Evangelical Lutheran Church will hold their annual outdoor meeting tomorrow evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. George Schivley, of R. D., West Newton.

Rip Van Winkle Couldn't Sleep with Nagging Backache

Now! You can get the fast relief you need from nagging backache, headache and muscular aches and pains that often cause restless nights and miserable tired-out feelings. When these discomforts come on with over-exertion or stress and strain — you want relief — want it fast! Another disturbance may be mild bladder irritation following wrong food and drink — often setting up a restless uncomfortable feeling.

For quick relief get Doan's Pills. They work fast in 3 separate ways: 1. by speedy pain-relieving action to ease torment of nagging backache, headaches, muscular aches and pains. 2. by their soothing effect on bladder irritation. 3. by their mild diuretic action tending to increase output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

Find out how quickly this 3-way medicine goes to work. Enjoy a good night's sleep and the same happy relief millions have for over 60 years. Ask for new, large size and save money. Get Doan's Pills today!

Doctor Says Tension Is Good for Some

WASHINGTON (UP) — Americans who have turned by the millions to tranquilizing drugs to ease the pressures of life are lowering their own efficiency, a government mental health expert warned today.

Dr. Robert H. Felix, director of the National Institute of Mental Health, said in a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report that normal, healthy persons should leave the drugs alone.

He said he had heard reports that 30 per cent of all U.S. doctors' prescriptions now contain some tranquilizers.

"I think a lot of it is because the patients insist and there may not be an awareness on the part of some physicians that too much of this taking the edge off life isn't good," he said.

'Within Limits'

"Tension is a good thing, as well as anxiety, within limits," Dr. Felix said. "Anxiety within normal limits is an essential part of normal personality development."

Most people feel tension, loss of appetite, "butterflies" in the stomach and clammy hands when they have to make a speech or deal with a crisis in their lives, Felix said.

"This is part of nature's way of preparing you for combat or for contest, or for a stress situation," he said. Tranquilizers, he added, "are really defeating the mechanism that nature has provided for the normal person to meet periods of peak performance."

The original cost of the White House was defrayed from the sale of land in Virginia and Maryland.

Kids' Lolipops Ruled Out by Barbers Union

DETROIT (UP)—The local Barbers Union has decided there'll be no more lolipops or bubble gum handed out to youngsters in the future.

The barbers say the action did not come because of sticky chairs or gummed-up magazines. "It's to correct a situation that has gotten out of hand in recent years," a union spokesman said.

The union said free bubble gum was one thing but barbers didn't stop there in enticing children to their respective shears.

"It's no good," the union said, "when everybody starts trying to buy everybody else's business. It got so bad that one of the barbers was offering chances on a bicycle with every haircut. A drawing was held each week on a new bike.

"So we decided to put a stop to it."

Some 2,000 barbers in the Detroit area will be affected by the new ruling, announced Tuesday by Local 522 of the Barbers Union.

The ban wasn't aimed wholely at the children, the union said, "but we couldn't draw the line." It also prohibits barbers from giving away free cigars to Dad and trading stamps to Mom.

Light Year for Polio Expected, Public Health Officials Report

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Health authorities said today there is every reason to hope that this will be a light year for polio. But it is still too early to be sure.

The polio season is just now getting underway. The number of cases usually climbs steadily from late June until August or September.

So far this year, there have been only about half as many polio cases as there were during the same period of 1956—and 1956 was itself a light year by comparison with the pre-Salk vaccine era.

Public Health Service figures published last week showed 1,038 polio cases reported through the 23 weeks ending June 8, compared with 2,040 during the same period last year.

A spokesman said the figures "are not very significant" this early in the season. Some of the worst epidemics have begun in July or August after a comparatively slow start.

65,000,000 Vaccinated

The main reason for hoping that this year's record will continue to be good, he said, is that nearly three-fourths of the people in the most susceptible group have received some degree of protection from Salk vaccine.

By June 1, 65,000,000 Americans had received one or more Salk shots. Nine million of these were vaccinated during April and May.

Polio strikes hardest among youths under 20 and among pregnant women. There are 67,000,000 people in this group, and 54,000,000 of them have had one or more shots.

Although polio incidence declines above age 20, it continues to be a substantial threat to all ages below 40. Only 11,000,000 of the 42,000,000 Americans (other than pregnant women) between the ages of 20 and 40 have received shots.

Health Drive Successful

The American Medical Assn. and other health groups launched a nationwide drive last February to vaccinate everyone under 40. The response far exceeded expectations.

Within a few weeks, the "get vaccinated" campaign had stimulated such a heavy demand for vaccine that a backlog of 26,000,000 shots, built up during the winter, was exhausted.

By March 30, there was an acute nationwide shortage, and Surgeon General LeRoy H. Burney called an emergency conference to consider rationing. At that time, the national inventory of Salk shots stood at 3,200,000 doses—the lowest since the vaccine was released for use in 1955.

The March 30 conference decided to soft-pedal mass vaccination programs for adults until fall. In the meantime, communities were urged to give priority to young people under 20 and pregnant women. With these adjustments, it was felt that no return to voluntary rationing was necessary.

Until the great majority of adults, as well as young people, have the protection of the vaccine, polio will continue to be a threat.

Bandits Get $175,000 From Lauritz Melchior

HOLLYWOOD. (UP) — Four armed bandits forced their way into the home of Lauritz Melchior late Tuesday night and robbed the opera star and his family of $175,000 in cash, jewels and furs, police reported.

Detectives said the bandits tied up Melchior and his wife, Maria, before fleeing from the swank home on Mulholland Drive. Officers said the Melchiors were uninjured.

Officers said the men wore stocking masks They said the bandits ordered Melchior to turn over all the cash he had in the home in addition to the jewels and his wife's fur coat

Melchior told police the bandits were "real courteous and gentlemanly" He said they forced him to open a safe containing the jewels and $300 in cash.

Sgt. William Vowles said the four men rang the doorbell and a maid answered He said then they forced the maid to ring the doorbell and this time Melchior came to the door.

Vowles said the men pulled a gun on Melchior and forced him and the maid into the living room where Mrs Melchior was reading The men also hustled the Melchior's cook into the room and quickly put the loot into a bag after ordering the singer to open the safe

The 67-year-old Melchior came to Hollywood in 1944 after 25 years as a famed Metropolitan Opera star. He appeared in several motion pictures, co-starring with such actresses as Kathryn Grayson, June Allyson and Esther Williams

'Berating' of Supreme Court Members Hit

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen Jacob K Javits (R-N Y) called today for a halt to "berating" the Supreme Court for its recent decisions against the government in Communist cases.

The decisions have drawn strong criticism from some members of Congress, principally from among those serving on congressional committees investigating Communist activities But other members praised the court for ruling against what it found to be abuses of individual rights in the drive against subversives.

"Acceptance and consideration of the decisions are far more constructive than berating the court for doing what it considers its duty in interpreting the Constitution," Javits said.

The court "has given us the guidelines," he said. "Now Congress should give fullest consideration to whatever legislation needs changing (in the light of the court's rulings) to protect our internal security."

The court on Monday held that witnesses before congressional committees are within their rights in refusing to answer questions unless the committees establish that the questions are pertinent to a specific purpose It was this decision, plus an earlier one, that the government must provide defendants in criminal cases with certain material from hitherto secret FBI files, that brought the strongest objections from congressional critics

Rep Morgan M Moulder (D-Mo), a member of the committee on unAmerican activities, said "Congressional action will be necessary to overcome the effect" of the court's decision putting limits on congressional questioning of witnesses

House Approves Bill to Change Annexation Law

HARRISBURG (UP)—The House today approved and returned to the state Senate legislation to regulate the annexation of second-class townships by larger municipalities

The House set the effective date back to next Jan. 1 and passed the bill, 131-61, in a vote which crossed party lines

The legislation would prevent annexation of any second-class township or a part of it without the consent of the electors of the entire community

Opponents charged it would place an "almost insurmountable barrier" in any proposed annexation movements. They said the power of annexation was a "matter of life and death" for expanding third class cities.

The measure's supporters said the bill would protect the township from "raids" by larger municipalities which, they contended, sometimes annex portions of the communities for tax purposes.

Liquor Licenses Are Suspended

HARRISBURG (UP) — The Liquor Control Board has suspended, effective July 8, the license of B E S Distributing, 1624 Brownsville Rd, Pittsburgh for five days because the licensees did not give constant attention to operation of the business

These licenses were suspended, effective July 9

The Tavern, 300 Main St, Clarion, 15 days, sales to minors, Rosina's, 316 Montgomery Ave., New Castle, 15 days, permitting a female to serve behind the bar

Firms Protest Construction of Water System

BEAVER, Pa (UP)—Koppers Co and St Joseph Lead Co, which between them own about 92 per cent of the taxable real estate in Potter Twp, charged today that the township commissioners' plan to build a $300,000 water system would violate the firms' constitutional rights.

In a petition for an injunction restraining the commissioners from issuing bonds for the water system's construction, attorneys for the companies said the concerns would foot most of the bill for the system although receiving no benefits from it They already have their own water supplies.

Construction of the new water system, the petition said, will result in a five-mill tax boost The new tax burden, the companies contended, would in effect deprive them of property without due process of law in violation of the 14th Amendment to the U S Constitution.

Ike Asks for Moscow Exhibit

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress for $2,200,000 to build and operate an exhibit on American life and industry in Moscow next year.

Russia has agreed to the propaganda display.

The White House announced that the exhibit would be similar to one now attracting crowds in Poznan, Poland

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that the U S had been discussing the possibility of an American exhibition in Russia for about a year. He said that Russia recently inquired "as to our interest in building such an exhibit" and an invitation was extended and accepted

The exhibit will be built in Gorky Park in Moscow and will open at the same time that Moscow holds its annual agricultural fair.

'Open' Election Races Approved

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Legislature has approved a proposed constitutional amendment to allow "wide open" election races for state Supreme Court judgeships

The amendment would allow members of the same political party to win both judgeships when two vacancies are up for election. Present law requires that each party must fill a post when two judgeships are open.

The proposal must clear another session of the Legislature before it can go before the voters in a statewide referendum.

Pittsburgh City Budget Dates Changed by State

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Republican dominated Senate has pushed through bills to increase the Pittsburgh real estate tax and compel the governing authorities of the city to disclose the city budget before the November elections.

Legislation requiring a three-quarter mill increase in the property tax for school purposes, publication of tax rates by Aug. 15 and the proposed city budget by Oct. 15 sparked some of the bitterest debate of the session in the Senate.

Sen. Joseph M. Barr (D-Allegheny) termed the bill fixing new dates for tax rate disclosures and budget publication "a political turkey." The new date for the budget was fixed for immediately prior to the November elections. The bill carried by a partyl ine 27-21 vote Tuesday night.

The tax rate increase was adopted 34-11. Sen. George J. Sarraf (D-Allegheny) contended that further increases in the tax rate might compel the city to revert to an elective school board. This would eliminate tax fixing by the Legislature.

Lamp of Future To Reach from Floor to Ceiling

CHICAGO (UP)—The lamp of the future will reach from floor to ceiling, have a "clean metallic look," and contain no cords or plugs, manufacturers at the International Home Furnishings Market said today.

T. A. Stiffel Company of Chicago has made the cordless, plugless lamp a reality with its revolutionary "lampole X-2000," shown for the first time at this summer's market.

The slender device contains a radial contact ceiling strip attached to a center ceiling outlet. The trip pivots up to 360 degrees, turns in any direction, thus making it possible to place the "lampole" anywhere in the room without an unsightly cord stretching along the floor.

Its five perforated aluminum shades are jet-shaped and an ingenious push-button switching arrangement makes it possible to turn all lights on or off, or to operate each light individually.

Fred Phillips, vice president of Stiffel, said the "lampole" is also utilitarian, containing trays, desks, flower vases, or telephone tables, and doubling as a room divider.

The modern lamp, which often serves as a coordinator of home decorations, remains simple and pure in design.

According to Jack Kahn of the Westwood Company, Patterson, N.J., lamps are taller and slimmer this year, simply because other home furnishings are lower and slimmer.

"People used to clutter up their homes with Victorianish things," he said. "Now they prefer one long graceful piece—a real eye-catcher."

Two 'Poisoned' By Bathing Suits

NEW YORK (UP)—Two cases of women being "poisoned" by their bathing suits in the current heat wave have been reported to the New York City Health Department.

A department spokesman said the Health Department's poison control center had been asked for advice by doctors treating the women.

He said the women had been wearing the suits to keep cool at home and had broken out in rashes soon after they put them on.

The rashes were traced to allergies to moth balls in which the suits had been stored during the winter, the spokesman said. He advised rinsing bathing suits after taking them out of storage.

One Drowns When Towboat Sinks

PITTSBURGH (UP)—One man drowned but another swam to safety early today when a towboat sank in the Allegheny River.

The craft was dragged under at about 2 a.m. by a listing barge it was hauling.

Lost in the water was Paul I. Romine, 26, Pittsburgh. His cousin, Patrick Tacey, 20, also of Pitthburgh managed to reach shore before collapsing of exhaustion. He was taken to St. Francis General Hospital and detained in fair condition with shock.

Royal Family Attends Coming Out Party

LONDON (UP)—The royal family attended the coming out party for Douglas Fairbanks' daughter Daphne Tuesday night and Princess Margaret danced till dawn with an Irish peer 3½ years her junior.

Queen Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh attended with Princess Margaret and Princess Alexandra in another sign that the social stigma attached to divorcees in Britain is rapidly breaking down.

Both Fairbanks, former husband of actress Joan Crawford, and his wife have been married before. The Queen and Duke's attendance at a Fairbanks private dinner two years ago touched off a storm of protest.

Margaret's new boy friend was Lord Patrick Beresford, 23, who plays polo with the Duke and says he prefers spending his time in the stables to "wasting his time" with debutantes.

His family seat is in the republic of Ireland, which allows British peers to continue living there and retain their titles even though it is no longer part of the British Empire.

Lord Beresford has been the princess' constant escort in recent weeks and their long day together started early. He joined the royal party in their box at Ascot racecourse and leaned over Margaret's shoulder to mark her race card

He was one of the two "mystery" men seen with Margaret last week. The other, bearded, has not been identified publicly.

Queen Elizabeth arrived in a dazzling white gown and sparkling diamond tiara. She danced with Fairbanks and sat on one side drinking champagne while hundreds of guests danced in the great ballroom.

Natural Heat Is Just Too Much

NEW YORK (UP)—Natural heat proved too much Tuesday for a fireman who recently defied flames and fire-induced heat to rescue a woman from a blazing tenement.

Francis Smith, 39, collapsed during a ceremony at City Hall and was carried to an ambulance and revived. When Smith's name was called, Mayor Robert F. Wagner walked to the ambulance and pinned two medals on the fireman for his hercism.

TV Casting Director Says Types Changed

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP)—TV actors have chucked the Marlon Brando type (symptoms: T-shirt, beer, tiger-under-the-skin) for the Ivy League type (symptoms: Natural shoulder suit, martinis, Jaguar-in-the-garage).

And Marion Dougherty is glad.

Miss Dougherty, 34, is casting director of NBC-TV's "Kraft Theatre," a position she has held for seven years. She's the gal who picks the actors and actresses for each Kraft drama and, as such, she crosses swords with hundreds of aspiring youngsters each year.

"We've entered a new era" proclaimed Miss Dougherty with evident enthusiasm. "The great unwashed fad seems to be dying. One actor actually apologized the other day when he came in wearing a pair of blue jeans."

Lasted Two Years

According to Miss Dougherty, a keen student of the curious ways of actors, the Marlon Brando era lasted about two years.

"The boys came in wearing T-shirts — preferably open, if they had any hair on their chests — jeans, rumped hair and sneakers, usually with holes in them.

"They were muscular types and came in looking like Stanley Kowalski even when they were supposed to read for dignified parts. They usually mumbled.

"This was about the time when young actresses were imitating Geraldine Page. They were all hesitant, quiet and tried to copy the inflections of her speech."

For a while, too, said Miss Dougherty, there was a brief vogue for the Jimmy Dean type. But that has just about run its course, too.

"For a while there, everybody seemed to be whispering at me. I could barely hear anybody. And all of them were introverted and introspective and very sensitive—you know, characteristics they thought peculiar to Jimmy."

Had Marilyn Types

But things, reported Miss Dougherty, have a way of running their course.

"Styles in actors change like styles in fashions," she said. "We even had a brief fling with a Marilyn Monroe fad for a while when Marilyn was very popular—there must have been quite a run on black sweaters and peroxide.

"But now, thank goodness, we seem to be getting back to just plain people again. Actors are dressing just like anybody else along Madison Avenue—you know, like any man who might go into Brooks Brothers.

"They're wearing suits now and they look quite neat and dignified when they come in. Instead of trying to ape some other person, there is quite a large group of kids trying to develop something within themselves.

"And me? Well, I think it's all kind of funny what happened. You see, I run home every night from work and still change into blue jeans myself."

Elvis Glad He Doesn't Have To Cut Sideburns

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Elvis Presley was All Shook Up with gratitude today. Durned if his fans didn't keep MGM Studio from chopping off his famous sideburns and bangs.

MGM figured on giving Elvis a crewcut and shaving off those side whiskers because he plays a convict in "Jailhouse Rock", the third movie on the agenda of the Presley steamroller through Hollywood.

But this news caused the biggest crisis in the movie business since Lassie was explosed as a he. Four thousand post cards and letters from Presley fans poured into MGM, begging that the studio let their hero act with his original hair hanging around his sensual-looking face.

A Fortville, Ind., mother wrote "We love him at our house. Elvis has had more criticism than anyone but his loyal fans stand by him—don't cut his hair. It's his trademark."

Some fans threatened to picket the picture. A Missoula, Mont., girl wrote that "all of us are sick about the haircut." Letters arrived from the Rock N' Roll Kats Fan Club of O'Fallon, Mo., and the Presley Kats Fan Club of Syracuse, N.Y.

'Athlete's Foot' and How to Care for It

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Tinea Pedis or Epidermophytosis are two villains you're apt to meet up with at any public swimming pool this summer. You'll probably recognize them by another name — athlete's foot.

A fungus infection, athlete's foot can be caused by a number of mold-like organisms that can be found just about anywhere. The favorite spot for these fungi, however, is a moist floor such as is found about pools or in shower rooms.

Swimming and competitive sports are healthful activities. I certainly encourage any of you who are able to take advantage of them.

However, just because you like to swim, golf or play basketball, doesn't mean that you have to come down with a bad case of ringworm of the feet.

Don't place all your trust in those shower room and poolside foot baths. They contain fungicidal solutions but generally are not too successful in combating fungus.

For one thing, the solutions lose their strength very quickly. For another, they are not strong enough to kill all the fungi, anyway. If they were, they would take the skin right off your feet.

The best way to prevent acquiring a case of athlete's foot is to follow these simple rules:

1. — Dry your feet well with a towel after every bath or shower. Use a clean, dry, soft cloth to pat — not rub — the skin between the toes until it is completely dry.

2 — A drying antiseptic powder will help keep your feet dry and healthy. Most persons can use ten per cent boric acid in ordinary talcum powder but occasionally some will become sensitive to it.

3 —Wear a clean pair of socks or stockings every day. And change them during the day if they become wet from moisture or excessive perspiration.

4 — Alternate the wearing of your shoes. Wear one pair one day and another the next day. This gives each pair plenty of time to dry out before you don them again.

Queen Elizabeth II Gets Wardrobe Ready

By MARGARET SAVILLE

LONDON (UP)—Queen Elizabeth II is having an entire new wardrobe designed for her American and Canadian visits next fall, for it is court etiquette that she must not appear in a foreign country in anything she has worn in public before.

So, while she has more clothes than ever before in her life as a result of visits already this year to Portugal, Denmark and France, she will soon be calling in her dressmakers, Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies, and her shoemaker, Edward Rayne, as well as milliners and lingerie makers.

Having decided the functions she will attend, the Queen explains her needs and sketches are prepared, several for each suggested outfit, and sent to Buckingham Palace with small swatches of suitable material.

Personally Selects Sketches

The Queen herself selects the sketch and the material she prefers. Occasionally she will ask Prince Philip's advice, but not so often now as she did when they were first married.

Elizabeth's wide-skirted formal evening gowns are always most elaborately hand-embroidered with sequins, semi-precious stones and seed pearls in patterns Hartnell creates. The work takes several highly skilled girls as much as a month to complete and then the design is burned so there is no possibility of another dress being decorated in the same way.

The Queen's outfitters know the special rules of royal dressing which must be observed:

The skirts long and full enough to permit gracefully getting in and out of cars and carriages. The hems invisibly weighted so no sudden gust of wind causes embarrassment. The sleeves to be cut remembering the white gloves the Queen usually wears. The hats set well off the face so everyone can see the Queen's features clearly.

Handbags have straps so they can be quickly slipped up the arm when the Queen wants to use her hands. Colors are light so the Queen can be easily distinguished in a crowd.

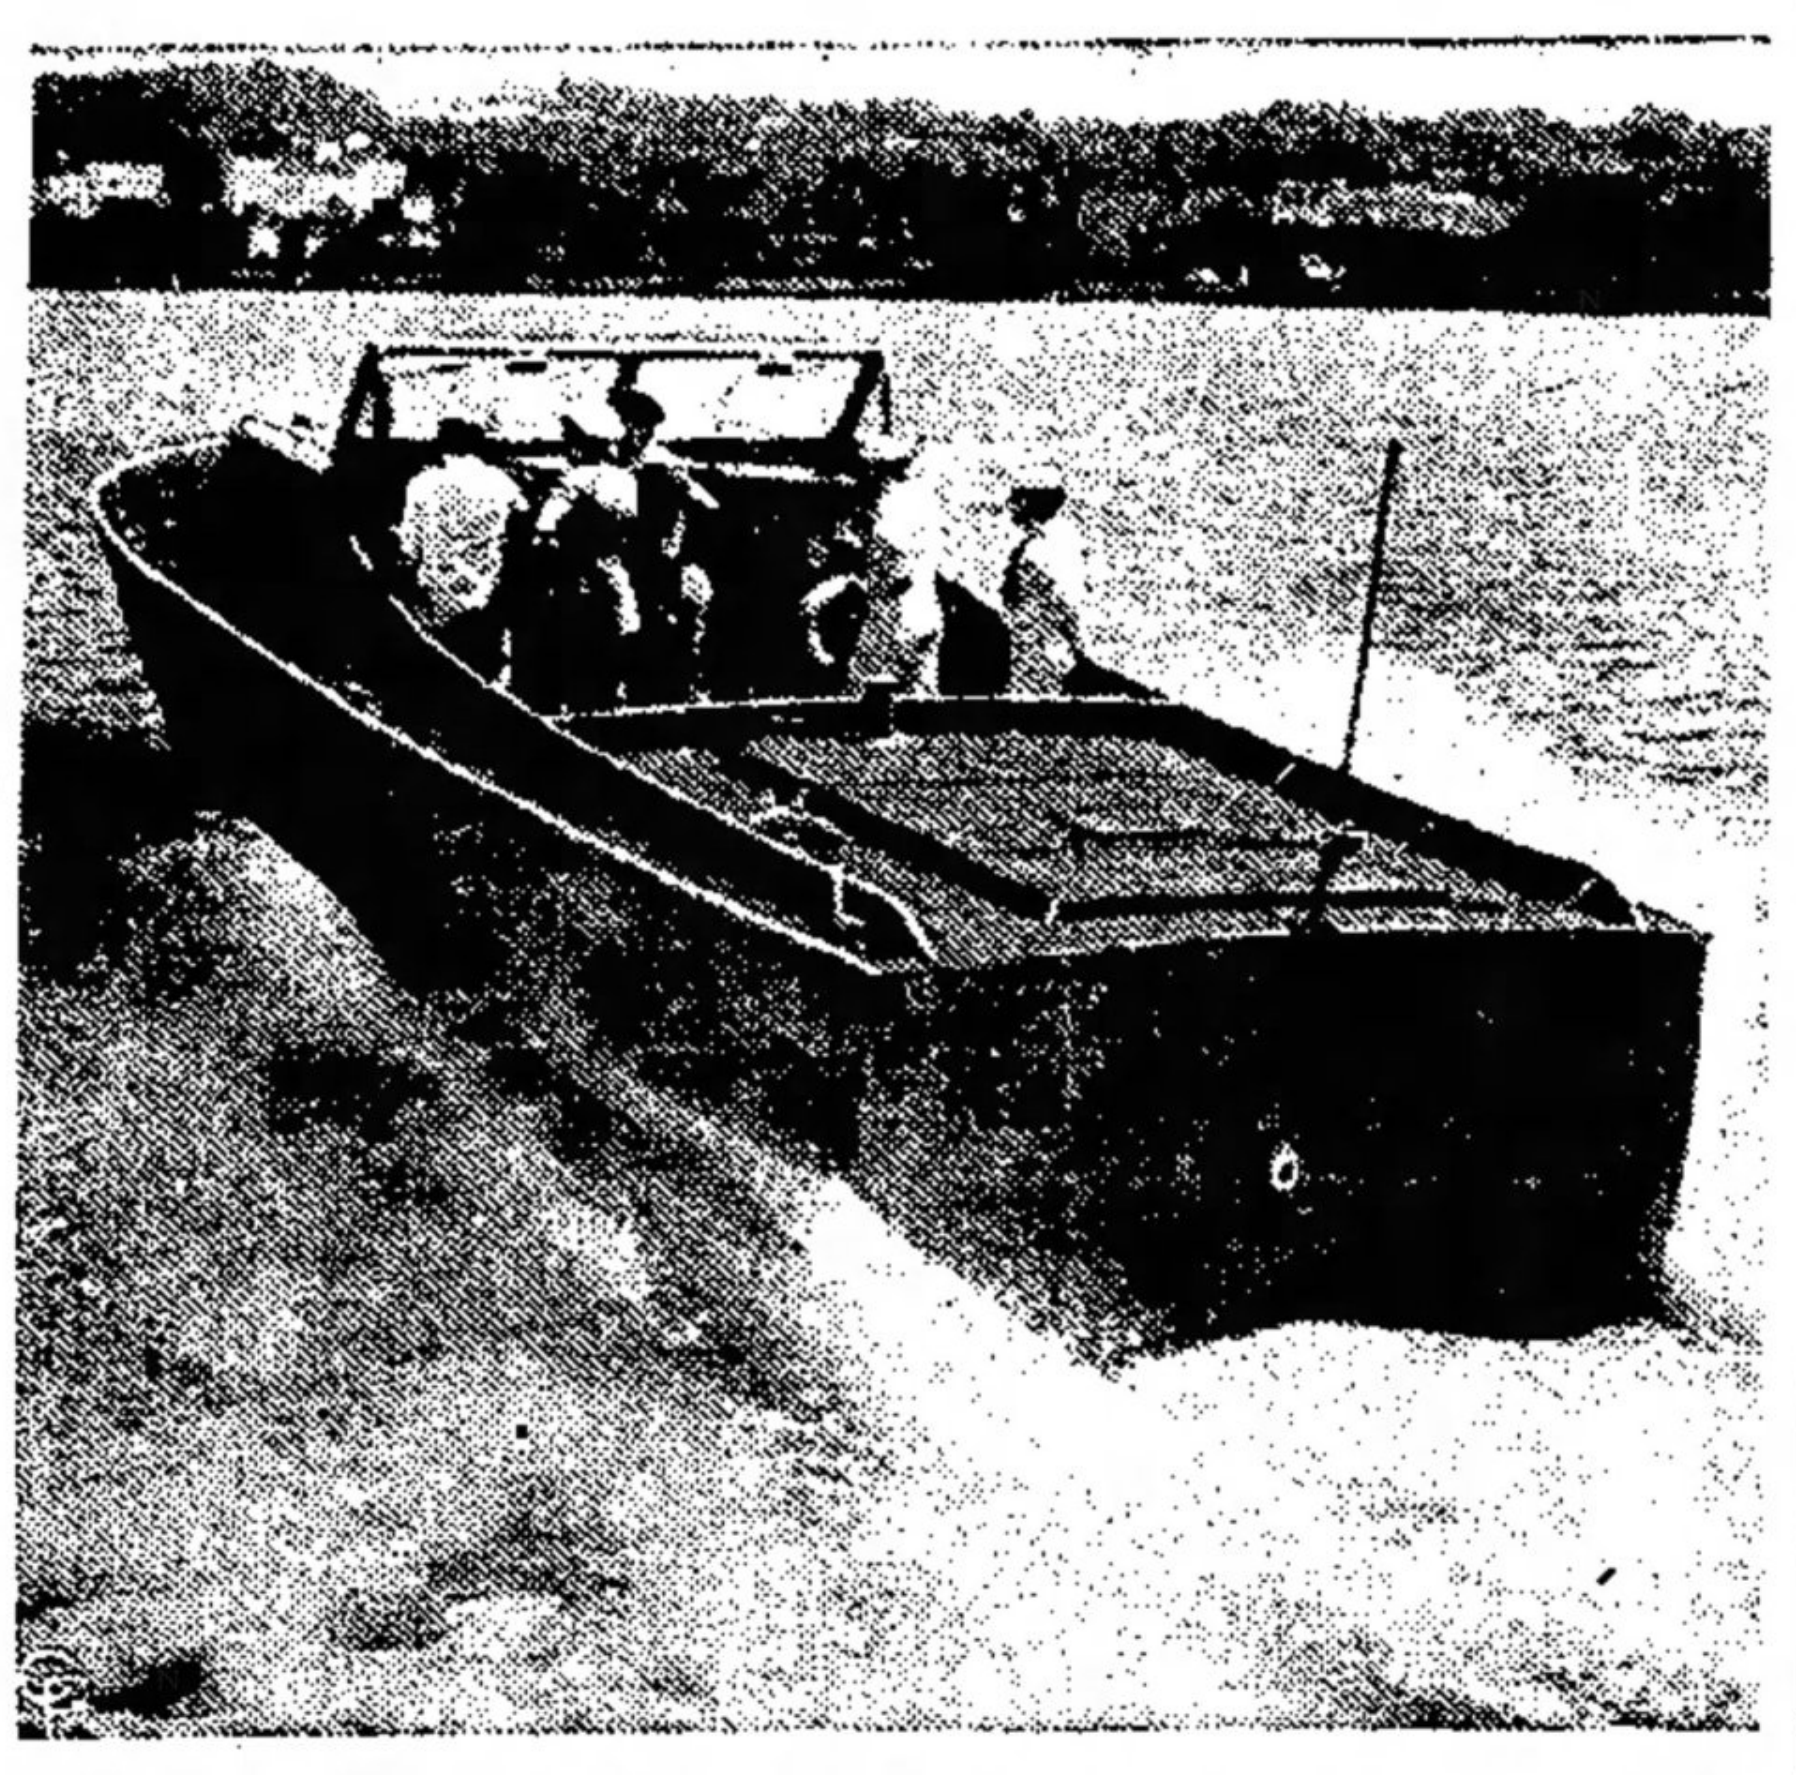
Fashion is borne in mind but it is not too slavishly followed. The Queen does not copy other women. She always chooses some clothes in blue, her favorite color and like most British women she is fond of patterned silks especially with a floral motif.

Two Named by Fish Commission

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Fish Commission has announced the appointment of two regional fisheries managers for the agency.

Buddy L. Jacob, formerly with the Wisconsin Conservation Department, was assigned to the northeast region, at a salary of $4,773 a year. The region covers Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne, Wyoming, Sullivan, Lackawanna, Pike, Luzerne, Columbia, Carbon, Monroe, Montour and Northumberland counties.

Daniel Heyl, formerly with the state Forests and Waters Department, was appointed to the southwest region at a salary of $4,551 a year. The region embraces Armstrong, Jefferson, Indiana, Cambria, Blair, Allegheny, Washington, Somerset, Westmoreland, Fayette and Greene counties.



TESTING A NEW LANDING CRAFT — A prototype 40-foot landing craft, powered by a 500-horsepower gas turbine engine, is demonstrated at the U. S. naval gun factory in Washington. The new engine weighs two-thirds of the 165-h.p. engine it replaced. Speed is doubled while vibration is minimized.

Good Samaritan Class Festival On Tomorrow

The Good Samaritan Class of Fells Methodist Church held a regular meeting in the upper room of the church Monday.

Devotional leader Libby Howenstine's topic was "Service—How a Christian Life Can be Brought into Greater Understanding of Service to Jesus".

The business meeting was conducted and routine reports made.

The group was reminded of the strawberry festival to be held at the church Friday.

Entertainment was provided by Mr. and Mrs. William Burke, of Donora Methodist Church who showed colored slides of their recent trip to Hawaii.

Lunch was served by Dollie Greenwood, Eva Sarber, Flora Cuthbert, and Zelma Cougnanour. Sixteen were present.

Women's Society Of Concord Meets

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Concord met Friday at the home of Goldie Daumit with Kay Yoder as devotional leader. Prayers were offered by Lary Lee McBeth.

Plans were discussed for the swimming party at Crystal pool on June 26 and the annual picnic on Aug. 3.

Others present were Henrietta, Annetta and Ruth Snyder, Mrs. Michael Daumit and a new member, Mattie Smith.

Rousseau Family in Annual Reunion

The Rousseau reunion was held Sunday at Memorial Park in New Kensington with approximately 60 persons attending from Belle Vernon, Kittanning, Pittsburgh, State College and Mt. Vernon, Ohio.

Joseph Spurmont was chairman of the affair. Mrs. Florence Finley will be in charge of the 1958 reunion.

Dinner was served and gifts were presented to children.

Picnic Planned On August 20 By St. Anne's

The St. Anne's Altar Society of Fellsburg met Monday at the church for a regular meeting. Ann Yakubic, president, was in charge.

Reports were given by Helen Florini, financial secretary, and Mary Doinak, treasurer. Plans were discussed for the annual picnic to be held Aug. 20 at the Croatian picnic grounds in Pricedale. Frances Pasierb is chairman.

The pig-in-the-poke donated by Kay Lacovicz was won by Helen Florini.

The committee for the next meeting will be Elizabeth Kondracki, Mary Rosco, Stefania Rue, Mary Sholtis and Dolores Wagner.

Fellowship Class Of Rehoboth Meets

The Westminster Fellowship of Rehoboth Church met Monday at the parsonage with Eleanor Stark as devotional leader. A series of sentence prayers was opened by Billy Kuhn and closed by Floyd Todd.

A council meeting was also held. Joyce Sampey was hostess. Larry Carter was selected to attend the Westminster Fellowship conference to be held soon at Grinnell University, Iowa.

Others present were Dave Nichols, Daniel Gilmour, Mae Gilmour, Billy Smith, Larry Carter, Terry Cloherty, Janet Waddell, Richard Shaffer, Barbara Baron, Denny Leeper, Kenton Colvin, Jack Kuhn and Mary Jane Demko.

Eleanor Stark to Represent Club

Eleanor Stark, of R. D. 1, Belle Vernon, will be among the Westmoreland County 4H Home Economic Club students at the leadership school at Penn State University June 24-28.

Nancy Lash, of Sewickley, and Wendy Pass, of near Irwin, will also attend.

30 'Shaken Up' in RR Crash

GRANTS, N.M (UP)—The last four cars of a moving Santa Fe Railroad streamliner became uncoupled near here Tuesday night and crashed into the remaining section of the passenger train.

Railroad officials said about 30 persons were "shaken up" and that one unidentified person was "seriously injured."

The Santa Fe spokesmen said the last four cars were detached when tie plates along the line flew up, severing a coupling between the remaining cars. They said momentum carried the detached cars into the rear of the streamliner, the El Capitan.

It was en route from Chicago to Los Angeles. The train proceeded to Gallup, N.M., after the accident for repairs.

Five Day Forecast
